By Right of Conquest G. A. Henty, 2018-01-19 The conquest of Mexico an extensive empire with a numerous and warlike population by a mere handful of Spaniards is one of the romances of history Indeed a writer of fiction would scarcely have dared to invent so improbable a story Even the bravery of the Spaniards and the advantage of superior arms would not have sufficed to give them the victory had it not been that Mexico was ripe for disruption The Aztecs instead of conciliating by wise and gentle government the peoples they had conquered treated them with such despotic harshness that they were ready to ally themselves with the invaders and to join with them heartily against the central power so that instead of battling against an empire single handed the Spaniards had really only to war with a great city and were assisted by a vast army of auxiliaries

Henty,2020-03-07 On March 3rd 1516 the trading vessel the Swan dropped anchor at Plymouth She would in our days be considered a tiny craft indeed but she was then looked upon as a large vessel and one of which her owner Master Diggory Beggs had good reason to be proud She was only of some eighty tons burden but there were few ships that sailed out from Plymouth of much larger size and Plymouth was even then rising into importance as a seaport having flourished mightily since the downfall of its once successful rival Fowey Large ships were not needed in those days for the only cargoes sent across the sea were costly and precious goods which occupied but small space The cloths of the Flemings the silks and satins of Italy the produce of the East which passed first through the hands of the Venetian and Genoese merchants and the wines of France and Spain were the chief articles of commerce Thus the freight for a vessel of eighty tons was a heavy venture and none but merchants of wealth and position would think of employing larger ships In this respect the Spaniards and the Italian Republics were far ahead of us and the commerce of England was a small thing indeed in comparison with that of Flanders In Plymouth however the Swan was regarded as a goodly ship and Master Diggory Beggs was heartily congratulated by his acquaintances when the news came that the Swan was sailing up the Sound having safely returned from a voyage to Genoa As soon as the anchor was dropped and the sails were furled the captain Reuben Hawkshaw a cousin of Master Beggs took his place in the boat accompanied by his son Roger a lad of sixteen and was rowed by two sailors to the landing place They were delayed for a few minutes there by the number of Reuben s acquaintances who thronged round to shake him by the hand but as soon as he had freed himself of these he strode up the narrow street from the quays to the house of Master Diggory Reuben Hawkshaw was a tall powerfully built man weatherbeaten and tanned from his many comings and goings upon the sea with a voice that could be heard in the loudest storm and a fierce look but as his men knew gentle and kind at heart though very daring and having as it seemed no fear of danger either from man or tempest By Right of Conquest;
