Artificial Intelligence in Animal Behaviour, Veterinary Behaviour and Neurology Holger Andreas Volk, Jasmin Nicole Nessler, Anna Zamansky, Sebastian Meller, Annika Bremhorst, 2025-08-18 The new leap innovation Artificial Intelligence AI will significantly accelerate the speed of science and translate into clinical practice faster than clinicians ever have been used to Machine and deep learning techniques are now readily available to analyze large and complex data sets providing veterinary scientists with a tool to not only better understand complex behaviour traits and neurological conditions but also to delve into the nuances of animal behaviour itself AI can now write plausible sounding text recognize written or spoken human words recognize objects in images or analyze large amounts of data Different fields of applications are known so far such as improving and speeding up interpretation of radiologic findings interpretation of electroencephalography diagnosis of autism in children objectifying ataxia in dogs detecting pain in cats and assessing and characterizing animal behaviours across species At the time of writing more than 500 AI based algorithms have been approved by the FDA for human medicine most of which are used in radiology and neurology In veterinary neurology and animal behavioural science only a limited amount of research on AI has been done so far Most algorithms presented are merely fragments of usable programs and are not suitable for clinical application Therefore ready to use applications are rare yet essential for implementing AI into everyday routine diagnostic work ups scientific research and animal behavioural assessments The research topic will help to unite current efforts and provide a collection of articles to address some of the current scientific and behavioural gaps In the future a clinician might have a clinical decision support tool that generates accurate estimations of likely outcomes of neurological disease and animal behaviour combining anamnestic behavioural clinical pathology and imaging information We are interested in original research systematic reviews and opinion papers not only about the scope and potential of AI for Veterinary Behavior and Neurology but also about the intersection of AI with the study of animal behaviour ethical considerations and pitfalls that the development of AI generated tools could present Potential themes therefore include but are not limited to AI to recognize monitor diagnose or

characterise behaviour neurological deficits or conditions including a detailed analysis of animal behaviour across a variety of contexts and species AI to assess behavioural states in both clinical and natural environments AI to interpret scientific clinical data sets such as clinical pathology omics imaging EEG data and behaviour metrics Ethical and legal considerations when applying or using AI tools in the study of animal behaviour and veterinary medicine Potential of AI to enhance clinical practice in veterinary behavioural medicine veterinary neurology and animal behaviour research Potential of AI enhanced diagnostic and behavioural assessment tools with animals

Ethics in Online AI-Based Systems Santi Caballé, Joan Casas-Roma, Jordi Conesa, 2024-04-10 Recent technological advancements have deeply transformed society and the way people interact with each other Instantaneous communication platforms have allowed connections with other people forming global communities and creating unprecedented opportunities in many sectors making access to online resources more ubiquitous by reducing limitations imposed by geographical distance and temporal constraints These technological developments bear ethically relevant consequences with their deployment and legislations often lag behind such advancements Because the appearance and deployment of these technologies happen much faster than legislative procedures the way these technologies affect social interactions have profound ethical effects before any legislative regulation can be built in order to prevent and mitigate those effects

Ethics in Online AI Based Systems Risks and Opportunities in Current Technological Trends features a series of reflections from experts in different fields on potential ethically relevant outcomes that upcoming technological advances could bring about in our society Creating a space to explore the ethical relevance that technologies currently still under development could have constitutes an opportunity to better understand how these technologies could or should not be used in the future in order to maximize their ethically beneficial outcomes while avoiding potential detrimental effects Stimulating reflection and considerations with respect to the design deployment and use of technology will help guide current and future technological advancements from an ethically informed position in order to ensure that tomorrow such advancements could contribute towards solving current global and social challenges that we as a society have today This will not only be useful for researchers and professional engineers but also for educators policy makers and ethicists Investigates how intelligent technological advances might be used how they will affect social interactions and what ethical consequences they might have for society Identifies and reflects on questions that need to be asked before the design deployment and application of upcoming technological advancements aiming to both prevent and mitigate potential risks as well as to identify potentially ethically beneficial opportunities Recognizes the huge potential for ethically relevant outcomes that technological advancements have and take proactive steps to anticipate that they be designed from an ethically informed position Provides reflections that highlight the importance of the relationship between technology their users and our society thus encouraging informed design and educational and legislative approaches that take this relationship into account
