From Margins to Mainstream - Women's Role in Sustainable

Development Prof Achla Gakkhar, Dr Manjali Sharma, Dr Shilpi Chauhan, Mr Utkarsh K Singh, 2025-07-28 From Margins to Mainstream Women's Role in Sustainable Development is a compelling exploration of how women often sidelined in traditional development narratives are now emerging as central figures in the global pursuit of sustainability. This book examines the evolving role of women in environmental conservation, social equity, and economic resilience across diverse cultures and communities. Blending academic insights, real-world case studies, and policy analysis, the book highlights the critical contributions of women in areas such as climate change mitigation, natural resource management, and grassroots activism. It also sheds light on the systemic barriers they face and the transformative impact of inclusive, gender-sensitive development practices. Ideal for students, researchers, policymakers, and activists, this book is both a call to action and a roadmap for integrating gender equity into the heart of sustainable development efforts. By bringing women's voices from the margins to the mainstream, it redefines what true progress looks like in the 21st century.

Critiquing Generative AI in Africa's Media Ecosystems Lungile A. Tshuma, Trust Matsilele, 2025-11-17 This book takes a critical approach to the rise of Artificial Intelligence (AI) within the media and communication landscape. The book argues that as technology is a social construct reflecting existing power dynamics, those in the Global South and in Africa, in particular, are bound to be marginalised and have their knowledge systems overlooked as the Global North dominates technological developments. The birth of AI has ignited debates about its benefits to lower-income countries, with some highlighting its potential to advance businesses and grow economies. However, this book argues that AI tools have been produced to serve Western needs and that instead there is a need for countries in Africa to have home-grown solutions defined by local values. Drawing on case studies and analysis from across the continent, the book seeks to caution, challenge, and proffer solutions to the use and understanding of Generative AI for media and communication in non-Western societies. At a time when generative AI is threatening to shape the future of media and communication around the world, this book is a vital and timely contribution to debates within critical data studies and African media studies.

Robots That Love Judith A. Markowitz, 2025-10-30 In a world of increasingly sophisticated AI, the relationship between creator and creation has shifted. Robot lovers coexist with humans, and the boundaries of emotion and consciousness are blurred. This book considers the fundamental challenge of imbuing robots with the capacity to experience love, delving into the consequences of loving robots that can only feign reciprocation and philosophical questions about sentience and consciousness. Other forms of artificial lovers are also discussed, ranging from ChatGPT and Samantha from the 2013 film Her to a variety of sex dolls, monsters, golems, and romanceable characters in dating simulation games. Such entities encompass an array of sexual and gender identities, as well as gender biases involved in creating the perfect artificial companion and developing AI systems. These biases often perpetuated by deep learning algorithms underscore the need for critical reflection amid the evolution of AI.
