Post-Truth Politics Elisa Zehndorfer, 2025-02-24 In recent years rapid innovations in generative AI and social media technologies have enabled fake news to explode across our social media accounts and TV screens Post truth political content now routinely manipulates our realities microtargeting us exploiting our desires and turning our fears against us It is an age where politics runs on emotion not cognition and where the democratization of disinformation has spawned a whole new global industry of disinformation entrepreneurs It has amplified polarization using hate anger and fear as its oxygen Fake news continues to bolster levels of right wing populism not seen since the 1930s If left unchallenged it will continue to place its jackboot ever harder against the upturned face of democracy Post Truth Politics A Brave New World empowers voters to fight back It provides for the first time a complete view of the global disinformation ecosystem who is targeting us how we are microtargeted and which evolutionary technological marketing neurological and military approaches are being used to manipulate us This non partisan book will resonate with all supporters of democracy conservative liberal centrist alongside academics in fields as diverse as media studies sociology politics marketing military studies and creative writing

Enemies Near and Far Daveed Gartenstein-Ross, Thomas Joscelyn, 2022-07-05 Although the United States has prioritized its fight against militant groups for two decades the transnational jihadist movement has proved surprisingly resilient and adaptable Many analysts and practitioners have underestimated these militant organizations viewing them as unsophisticated or unchanging despite the ongoing evolution of their tactics and strategies In Enemies Near and Far two internationally recognized experts use newly available documents from al Qaeda and ISIS to explain how jihadist groups think grow and adapt Daveed Gartenstein Ross and Thomas Joscelyn recast militant groups as learning organizations detailing their embrace of strategic tactical and technological innovation Drawing on theories of organizational learning they provide a sweeping account of these groups experimentation over time Gartenstein Ross and Joscelyn shed light on militant groups most effective strategic and tactical moves including attacks targeting aircraft and the use of the internet to inspire and direct lone attackers and they examine jihadists ability to shift their strategy based on political context While militant groups initial efforts to upgrade their capabilities often fail these attempts should generally be understood not as failures but as experiments in service of a learning process a process that continues until these groups achieve a breakthrough Providing unprecedented historical and strategic perspective on how jihadist groups learn and evolve Enemies Near and Far also explores how to anticipate future threats analyzing how militants are likely to deploy a range of emerging technologies
