Character Text For Speak Cantonese:

Character Text for Speak Cantonese Parker Huang, Kok Gerard, Kok P. Gerard, 1969-03-01 Speak Cantonese Book One is one of a series of books that teaches the modern spoken language of Cantonese one of the major dialects of Chinese. As appropriate for a text of its kind it is entirely in romanization. In response to many requests for a character version of the romanized text the present volume has been printed. It is a word by word faithful transcription of the entire content of the parent volume in traditional characters. No romanization is used in this text. Character Text for Speak Cantonese Parker Po-fei Huang, 1961 Character text for speak cantonese Parker P. Huang, 1974 Cantonese as a Second Language John C. Wakefield, 2019-04-09 Cantonese is a language from southern China that is spoken by roughly 70 million people worldwide. It is the language of Hong Kong cinema and has traditionally been the most prominent language spoken in Chinatowns around the world. People choose to learn Cantonese for a variety of social and economic reasons because it is a heritage language that one's relatives speak because it is the language of one's partner and monolingual in laws because it is necessary for living and working in Hong Kong, Macau, Guangzhou or other Cantonese speaking communities because it is the bridge to fully appreciating and understanding Cantonese culture or simply because it is an irresistible challenge. Whatever the motivation more and more people are choosing to learn Cantonese as an additional language. This book discusses many issues related to both acquiring and teaching Cantonese. If you are a learner of Cantonese this long overdue volume is essential to understanding both the grammatical and the social issues involved with learning this notoriously difficult language. If you are a teacher this book will be invaluable to gaining insight into your students' motivations and needs. And finally if you are an applied linguist the unique aspects related to the acquisition of Cantonese offer a fascinating contribution to the literature. Vernacular Chinese-Character Manuscripts from East and Southeast Asia David Holm, 2024-07-22 This collection brings together studies on vernacular manuscripts in regional Chinese dialects such as Cantonese and Hokkien, South Fujian dialect, those of non-Han peoples in China and Southeast Asia such as the Zhuang and Yao, and a vernacular character manuscript in Vietnamese. Across this wide range the focus is on manuscripts written in regional and vernacular adaptations of the Chinese script. Three chapters on Yao manuscripts each focus on a different aspect of their use in local society or on collections of Yao manuscripts in overseas collections; there are three chapters on Zhuang and related Tai languages; two studies on Hokkien; one on the Cantonese script in contemporary Hong Kong and one on a Buddhist manuscript with Vietnamese Chinese commentary from a temple in Bangkok. Detailed descriptions of traditional paper manufacture in the villages are given for both the Yao and the Zhuang as well as paper analysis used to date a Vietnamese manuscript. Coverage includes information about the physicality of the manuscripts investigated and the vernacular Chinese scripts in which they are written but also a wealth of information about their use and significance in local society. This collection will be of interest to scholars and students interested in the philological analysis of East and Southeast Asian character scripts and manuscript traditions but also the broader social contexts of manuscript use in traditional and modern society
