Mrs. Humphry Ward

Charlotte A Play:

Charlotte Stuart McCarrell, 1994-01-01 Charlotte Kathryn Shevelow, 2006-02-21 The life of actress Charlotte Charke transports us through the splendors and scandals of eighteenth century London and its wicked theatrical world Her father was one of the century s great actor playwrights a favorite of the king It was thought that his high spirited often rebellious daughter Charlotte would follow in his footsteps at the legendary Drury Lane but this was not to be She had the troublesome habit of dressing in men s clothes a preference first revealed onstage but adopted elsewhere after her disastrous marriage to an actor who became the last man she ever loved Author Shevelow an expert on eighteenth century London re creates Charlotte s downfall from the heights of London s theatrical world to its lascivious lows the domain of fire eaters puppeteers wastrels gender bending cross dressers wenches and scandalous sorts of every variety and her comeback as the author of one of the first autobiographies ever written by a woman From publisher description Charlotte's Web E. Charlotte's World Maud O Banks, 2017-01-11 Mrs Stout made Charlottes clothes She always did One day she made a black dress for Charlotte and sewed yellow chickens on both pockets Charlotte thought her dress was nice It was certainly different but she liked it But when she went to school it was a different matter Oh how the children made fun of her new dress But boy did she ever tell them off and set matters straight Well its my dress and I like it I find it attractive if you dont mind Charlotte didnt have to tell them her mother made the dress for her for they had drawn that conclusion instantly In recounting her tale to Verona Charlotte put her shoulders back sat up straight and lifted her chin high She brought her right shoulder forward just under her slightly tilted chin and glared at Verona Then she remarked A snooty bunch they were I tell you but I sure put them in their place And there is something else I must tell you something I will never ever forget Or someone I should say Miss Granger She was my teacher And a nicer person you couldnt find anywhere She was single at the time I dont know if she ever got married later but she was such a lovely person She surely was lovely and nice She both saw and heard what the children were saying and how I stood up for myself I tell you She walked right over to me and put two dollar bills in one pocket and a handkerchief in the other What a nice thing to do What a nice thing she did for me I tell you I will always remember what Miss Granger did Children can be so cruel I was eight years old at the time And she spoke so nicely to me in front of all those children Now little girl she said I think this is one of the nicest dresses I have ever seen Of course all the children were looking on They saw and heard what our teacher did and what she said That told them and shut them up all right declared Charlotte with a toss of her head and a straightening up of her back and shoulders Then she continued relating her story to Verona We didnt have much at that time It was during the Great Depression But we managed she said Charlotte is not afraid of anything neither the living nor the dead And that was why she took the bull by the horns and gored herself through life with a can do fearless attitude Charlotte: life or theater?
