Charmed Circle Gertrude Stein Company:

Charmed Circle James R. Mellow, 2003-05-01 The renowned writer Gertrude Stein her peers and avant garde Paris come to life in this meticulous and loving reconstruction of the period The New York Times Book Review On almost every Saturday of the first half of the twentieth century Gertrude Stein would open her door to the likes of Picasso and Matisse Hemingway and Fitzgerald Cocteau and Apollinaire welcoming them into a salon alive with vivid avant garde paintings and sparkling intellectual conversation In Charmed Circle James R Mellow has recreated this fascinating world and the complex woman who dominated it His engaging narrative illuminates Stein s writing now celebrated along with the work of such literary giants as Joyce and Woolf including her difficult early periods which adapted cubism and abstraction to the written word Rich with detail and insight it conveys both the serene rhythms of daily life with her devoted partner Alice B Toklas and the radical pulse and dramatic upheavals of her exciting era Spanning the years from 1903 when Stein first arrived in Paris to her final days at the end of the Second World War Charmed Circle is a penetrating and lively account of a writer at the heart of modernity A rich and compelling portrait of an extraordinary personage and a mural of the people in her life She has been given a biographer worthy of her Los Angeles Times Entertaining and comprehensive a delightful book The New Yorker A beautifully achieved work of biography one which superbly captures its eccentric subject Reason

Writing the Lost Generation Craig Monk, 2010-11 Members of the Lost Generation American writers and artists who lived in Paris during the 1920s continue to occupy an important place in our literary history Rebellious against increased commercialism and the ebb of cosmopolitan society in early twentieth century America they rejected the culture of what Ernest Hemingway called a place of broad lawns and narrow minds Much of what we know about these iconic literary figures comes from their own published letters and essays revealing how adroitly they developed their own reputations by controlling the reception of their work Surprisingly the literary world has paid less attention to their autobiographies In Writing the Lost Generation Craig Monk unlocks a series of neglected texts while reinvigorating our reading of more familiar ones Well known autobiographies by Malcolm Cowley Ernest Hemingway and Gertrude Stein are joined here by works from a variety of lesser known but still important expatriate American writers including Sylvia Beach Alfred Kreymborg Samuel Putnam and Harold Stearns By bringing together the self reflective works of the Lost Generation and probing the ways the writers portrayed themselves Monk provides an exciting and comprehensive overview of modernist expatriates from the United States

American Hybrid Poetics Amy Moorman Robbins, 2014-07-21 American Hybrid Poetics explores the ways in which hybrid poetics a playful mixing of disparate formal and aesthetic strategies have been the driving force in the work of a historically and culturally diverse group of women poets who are part of a robust tradition in contesting the dominant cultural order Amy Moorman Robbins examines the ways in which five poets Gertrude Stein Laura Mullen Alice Notley Harryette Mullen and Claudia Rankine use hybridity as an implicitly political strategy to interrupt mainstream American language literary genres and visual culture and expose the ways in which mass culture in the twentieth and twenty first centuries has had a powerfully standardizing impact on the collective American imagination By forcing encounters between incompatible traditions consumer culture with the avant garde low culture forms with experimental poetics prose poetry with linguistic subversiveness these poets bring together radically competing ideologies and highlight their implications for lived experience Robbins argues that it is precisely because these poets have mixed forms that their work has gone largely unnoticed by leading members and critics in experimental poetry circles

Rintoul, 2014-03-05 Fascinating and comprehensive in scope the Dictionary of Real People and Places in Fiction is a valuable source for both students and teachers of literature and for those interested in locating the facts behind the fiction they read In a single scholarly volume it provides intriguing insight into the real identity of people and places in the novels of over 300 American and British authors published in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Pocahontas's Daughters Mary V. Dearborn, 1986 Using the figure of Pocahontas America's first ethnic heroine as a representative symbol in the cultural imagination of America this volume examines American women's fiction in terms of gender and ethnicity Dearborn discusses the problems of authenticity authority and genre that plague the ethnic female tradition and analyzes the dominant themes that appear in American women's fiction generational conflict renunciation of one's ethnic origins and intermarriage She evaluates the writings of black immigrant and Jewish women from Our Nig by Mrs H E Wilson the first novel by a black woman to the works of Gertrude Stein and Toni Morrison and concludes that American women writers who take ethnicity as an integral part of the American identity can best portray what it is to be a woman and an outsider in the social fabric of America ISBN 0 19 503632 8 21 95 Paris and the American Avant-garde, 1900-1925, 1980 Women and the Making of the Modern House Alice Friedman, 1998-03 Explores the challenges that unconditional attitudes and ways of life have presented to architectural thinking and to the architects themselves Photos Hemingway Linda Wagner-Martin, 2009 Fourth collection of essays in a series providing contemporary criticism of the work and life of Ernest Hemingway The Seeming and the Seen Beverly Maeder, 2006 Taking their cue from the polymorphous relationship between word and image the essays in this book explore how different media translate the world of phenomena into aesthetic intellectual or sensual experience They embrace the media of poetry fiction drama engraving painting photography film and advertising posters Catalogues of Sales Sotheby Parke Bernet & Co, 1977 Jewish Autobiographies and Biographies David S.
