AB Bookman's Weekly ,1999      National American Kennel Club Stud Book ,1915      The Long Shadow B. M.

Bower,2019-11-26 B M Bower s gripping novel The Long Shadow delves into the psychological complexities of frontier life in the American West Through vivid characterization and evocative prose Bower explores themes of isolation identity and belonging against a backdrop of rugged landscapes and social upheaval The narrative unfolds with a blend of stark realism and poignant introspection immersing readers in the often harsh realities of pioneer existence while also highlighting the nuances of human relationships under duress Bower s meticulous attention to the details of life on the frontier creates a setting that is both immersive and haunting revealing the long shadows cast by past choices and traumas B M Bower a prominent female voice during the early 20th century drew upon her own experiences as a rancher and cowgirl in her storytelling Her unique perspective on frontier life provided her with rich material allowing her to portray the emotional depth and challenges of her characters Educated and well traveled Bower often infused her narratives with feminist themes challenging traditional gender roles while addressing the complexities of love and ambition in a male dominated society The Long Shadow is highly recommended for readers interested in early Western literature or those seeking a profound exploration of the human condition Bower s compelling storytelling and layered characterizations make this novel a significant contribution to the genre encouraging deep reflection on the ties that bind individuals to their pasts and the long shadows they cast upon their futures In this enriched edition we have carefully created added value for your reading experience A succinct Introduction situates the work s timeless appeal and themes The Synopsis outlines the central plot highlighting key developments without spoiling critical twists A detailed Historical Context immerses you in the era s events and influences that shaped the writing A thorough Analysis dissects symbols motifs and character arcs to unearth underlying meanings Reflection questions prompt you to engage personally with the work s messages connecting them to modern life Hand picked Memorable Quotes shine a spotlight on moments of literary brilliance Interactive footnotes clarify unusual references historical allusions and archaic phrases for an effortless more informed read      Who Says? Lisa Zeidner,2021-02-09 A thorough illuminating and entertaining guide to crafting point of view a fiction writer s most essential choice Who is telling the story to whom is the single most important question about any work of fiction the answer is central to everything from style and tone to plot and pacing Using hundreds of examples from Jane Austen to Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Leo Tolstoy to Stephen King novelist and longtime MFA professor Lisa Zeidner dives deep into the points of view we are most familiar with first and third person and moves beyond to second person narration frame tales and even animal points of view Engaging and accessible Who Says presents any practicing writer with a new system for choosing a point of view experimenting with how it determines the narrative and applying these ideas to revision      How to Revise a True War Story John K. Young,2017-01-11 You can tell a true war story if you just keep on telling it Tim O Brien writes in The Things They Carried Widely regarded as the most important novelist to come out of the American war in Viet Nam O'Brien has kept on telling true war stories not only in narratives that cycle through multiple fictional and non-fictional versions of the war's defining experiences but also by rewriting those stories again and again Key moments of revision extend from early drafts to the initial appearance of selected chapters in magazines across typescripts and page proofs for first editions and through continuing post-publication variants in reprints How to Revise a True War Story is the first book-length study of O'Brien's archival papers at the University of Texas's Harry Ransom Center Drawing on extensive study of drafts and other prepublication materials as well as the multiple published versions of O'Brien's works John K. Young tells the untold stories behind the production of such key texts as Going After Cacciato The Things They Carried and In the Lake of the Woods By reading not just the texts that have been published but also the versions they could have been Young demonstrates the important choices O'Brien and his editors have made about how to represent the traumas of the war in Viet Nam The result is a series of texts that refuse to settle into a finished or stable form just as the stories they present insist on being told and retold in new and changing ways In their lack of textual stability these variants across different versions enact for O'Brien's readers the kinds of narrative volatility that is key to the American literature emerging from the war in Viet Nam Perhaps in this case you can tell a true war story if you just keep on revising it
