To See Every Bird on Earth Dan Koeppel, 2006-04-25 What drives a man to travel to sixty countries and spend a fortune to count birds And what if that man is your father Richard Koeppel's obsession began at age twelve in Queens New York when he first spotted a Brown Thrasher and jotted the sighting in a notebook Several decades one failed marriage and two sons later he set out to see every bird on earth becoming a member of a subculture of competitive bird watchers worldwide all pursuing the same goal Over twenty five years he collected over seven thousand species becoming one of about ten people ever to do so To See Every Bird on Earth explores the thrill of this chase a crusade at the expense of all else for the sake of making a check in a notebook A riveting glimpse into a fascinating subculture the book traces the love loss and reconnection between a father and son and explains why birds are so critical to the human search for our place in the world Marvelous I loved just about everything about this book Simon Winchester author of The Professor and the Madman A lovingly told story helps you understand what moves humans to seek escape in seemingly strange other worlds Stefan Fatsis author of Word Freak Everyone has his or her addiction and birdwatching is the drug of choice for the father of author Dan Koeppel who writes affectionately but honestly about his father's obsession Audubon Magazine editor's choice As a glimpse into human behavior and family relationships To See Every Bird on Earth is a rarity a book about birding that nonbirders will find just as rewarding Chicago Tribune

Good Birders Still Don't Wear White Lisa White, Jeffrey A. Gordon, 2017-03-14 Avid North American birders share wit wisdom advice and what fuels their passion for birds Birding gets you outside helps you de stress exercises your body and mind puts your day to day problems in perspective and can be lots of fun Birders know this and in this collection of thirty seven brief essays birders from diverse backgrounds share their sense of wonder joy and purpose about their passion and sometimes obsession From the Pacific Ocean to Central Park from the rainforest in Panama to suburban backyards no matter what their habitat what good birders have in common is a curiosity about the natural world and a desire to share it with others In these delightful essays each accompanied by an endearing drawing devoted birders reveal their passion to be fulfilling joyful exhilarating and maybe even contagious Contributors include many well known birders such as Richard Crossley Pete Dunne Kenn Kaufman Michael O'Brien Bill Thompson and Julie Zickefoose and a portion of the proceeds goes to the American Birding Association North America's largest membership organization for active birders

Chasing Wings Richard Modlin, 2007-01-20 SIXTY YEARS OF BIRD WATCHING AND ADVENTURE AROUND THE GLOBE His passion has shaped his life and taken him to the far corners of the planet For sixty years Richard Modlin has traveled the world in search of birds of all types and now his journeys have been collected into this one extraordinary volume Travel with the author to view widowbirds ostriches sunbirds parrots toucans blue pigeons paradise flycatchers hummingbirds and other exotic birds as he describes his visits to places like Kenya the Seychelle Islands Grand Cayman Island and the rain forests of Belize all in search of his favorite animal in the wild Turning to Birds Lili

Taylor,2025-05-08 Discover an eye opening world of meaning in small moments with this search for peace in a cacophony of birds from award winning actor Lili Taylor During a much needed break from her work as an actor Lili Taylor sought silence and instead found the bustling symphonic world of birds that had always existed around her Since then she has entered the world of birdwatching and kept a keen eye pressed to her binoculars in search of vivid stories that elevate the everyday if you only look Through a series of beautifully crafted essays Taylor shares her intimate encounters with the birds that have captured her heart and imagination from learning the virtue of patience from the Gambel s quail in New Mexico to experiencing a moment of connection with the wonderfully strange woodcock in Ohio from the exhilaration of witnessing a migratory flock from the top of the Empire State Building to the quiet joy of observing a nest of hatchlings in her own backyard Through simply paying attention to birds Lili has seen a parallel world that is wider and deeper one of constant change and movement full of life and the will to survive In Turning to Birds Taylor encourages mindfulness inviting you to be present and fully engaged with the world around you Her beautiful prose and thoughtful meditations on both the art we make and the art we discover around us create a sense of intimacy and wonder inviting you to see the world through new eyes and to find joy in the most unexpected places

The Life of the Skies Jonathan Rosen,2008-02-19 Aerial delights A history of America as seen through the eyes of a bird watcher John James Audubon arrived in America in 1803 when Thomas Jefferson was president and lived long enough to see his friend Samuel Morse send a telegraphic message from his house in New York City in the 1840s As a boy Teddy Roosevelt learned taxidermy from a man who had sailed up the Missouri River with Audubon and yet as president presided over America s entry into the twentieth century in which our ability to destroy ourselves and the natural world was no longer metaphorical Roosevelt an avid birder was born a hunter and died a conservationist Today forty six million Americans are bird watchers The Life of the Skies is a genre bending journey into the meaning of a pursuit born out of the tangled history of industrialization and nature longing Jonathan Rosen set out on a quest not merely to see birds but to fathom their centrality historical and literary spiritual and scientific to a culture torn between the desire both to conquer and to conserve Rosen argues that bird watching is nothing less than the real national pastime indeed it is more than that because the field of play is the earth itself We are the players and the spectators and the outcome since bird and watcher are intimately connected is literally a matter of life and death

Birding Without Borders Noah Strycker,2017-10-10 The story of how the associate editor of Birding magazine set himself a lofty goal to become the first person to see half the world s birds in one year In 2015 for 365 days with a backpack binoculars and a series of one way tickets Noah Strycker traveled across forty one countries and all seven continents eventually spotting 6 042 species by far the biggest birding year on record This is no travelogue or glorified checklist Noah ventures deep into a world of chronic sleep deprivation airline snafus breakdowns mudslides floods war zones ecologic devastation conservation triumphs common and iconic species and scores of passionate bird lovers around the globe By pursuing the freest creatures on the planet he gains a unique perspective on the world they share with us and offers a hopeful message that even as many birds face an uncertain future more people than ever are working to protect them Birding Without Borders is light hearted and filled with stories of exotic birds risky adventures and colorful birding companions New York Times Book Review Highly recommended for anyone interested in travel natural history and adventure Library Journal Even readers who wouldn't know a marvellous spatuletail from a southern ground hornbill will be awed by Strycker's achievement and appreciate the passion with which he pursues his interest Publishers Weekly

Kingbird Highway Kenn Kaufman, 2000 At 16 Kaufman dropped out of high school and started hitchhiking across America in an effort to see the most birds in a year Kingbird Highway is a unique coming of age story combining a lyrical celebration of nature with wild adventures and some unbelievable characters

Flights Against the Sunset Kenn Kaufman, 2018-09-01 True life essays that show how a son's connection with birds helped him reconnect with his mother from the ornithologist and author of Kingbird Highway At age sixteen Kenn Kaufman left home to travel the world in search of birds Now a grown man and a renowned ornithologist he has come back to visit his ailing mother and explain to her what drove his obsession with bird life His explanation forms a series of interlocking tales from the frontier where the world of birds intersects with the world of the humans who pursue them The stories range over settings from Alaska to Africa from trackless jungles to parking lots They delve into subjects from first dates to last rites from imagination and desire to sleep deprivation from poignant encounters with eternal mysteries to comical brushes with biker gangs and secret agents But as the stories unfold the ornithologist comes to realize that he can still learn some things about life and even about the meaning of birds from his mother Flights Against the Sunset brings together nineteen essays mostly adapted from Kaufman's long running column in Bird Watcher's Digest They weave an original story that examines how we communicate about our passions with those who do not share the same interests and how to celebrate the world of infinite possibilities and wonder A skilled storyteller The stories presented here are uniformly captivating and entertaining but there is also deep insight into birds people and life The Birder's Library

Lost Among the Birds Neil Hayward, 2016-06-07 Early in 2013 Neil Hayward was at a crossroads He didn't want to open a bakery or whatever else executives do when they quit a lucrative but unfulfilling job He didn't want to think about his failed relationship with the one or his potential for ruining a new relationship with the next one And he almost certainly didn't want to think about turning forty And so instead he went birding Birding was a lifelong passion It was only among the birds that Neil found a calm that had eluded him in the confusing world of humans But this time he also found competition His growing list of species reluctantly catapulted him into a Big Year a race to find the most birds in one year His peregrinations across twenty eight states and six provinces in search of exotic species took him to a hoarfrost covered forest in Massachusetts to find a Fieldfare to Lake Havasu Arizona to see a rare Nutting's Flycatcher and to Vancouver for the Red flanked Bluetail Neil's Big Year was as unplanned as it was accidental It was the perfect distraction to life Neil shocked the birding world by finding 749 species of bird and breaking the long standing Big Year record He also surprised himself During his time among the hummingbirds tanagers and boobies he found a renewed sense of confidence and hope about the world and his place in it Out of the Woods Ora E. Anderson,2007 Out of the Woods A Bird Watcher s Year is a journey through the seasons and a joyous celebration of growing old In fifty nine essays and poems Ora E Anderson birder bird carver naturalist and nature writer reveals the insights and recollections of a keen eyed observer of nature both human and avian The essays follow the rivers and creeks the highways and little known byways of Appalachia and along the way we become nearly as familiar with its numerous bird plant and animal species as with the author himself These are not the memories of a single year however but of a long lifetime spent immersed in the natural world Out of the Woods presented with humor and passion is an account of a well lived productive and satisfying life The essays offer an intimate portrait of a half century of life on Anderson s beloved old farm more nearly a nature preserve where he lived in harmony with birds and nature and followed the rhythm of the seasons We are invited to share the joys and the disappointments and sorrows inherent in such a life Generously illustrated with Julie Zickefoose s detailed drawings and evocative sketches this book will delight bird watchers artists naturalists backyard gardeners and anyone who is sometimes tempted to take a rutted overgrown and unused path just to see where it leads The Delightful Horror of Family Birding Eli J. Knapp,2018-10-30 For the nature lover with a sense of humor SIERRA MAGAZINE Eli Knapp takes readers from a leaky dugout canoe in Tanzania and the mating grounds of Ecuador s cock of the rock to a juniper titmouse s perch at the Grand Canyon and the migration of hooded mergansers in a New York swamp exploring life s deepest questions all along the way In this collection of essays Knapp intentionally flies away from the flock reveling in insights gleaned from birds his students and the wide eyed wonder his children experience The Delightful Horror of Family Birding navigates the world in hopes that appreciation of nature will burn intensely for generations to come not peter out in merely a flicker Whether traveling solo or with his students or children Knapp levels his gaze on the birds that share our skies showing that birds can be a portal to deeper relationships ecological understanding and newfound joy ELI J KNAPP PhD is professor of intercultural studies and biology at Houghton College and director of the Houghton in Tanzania program Knapp is a regular contributor to Bird Watcher s Digest New York State Conservationist and other publications An avid birdwatcher hiker and kayaker he lives in Fillmore New York with his wife and children The Big Year Mark Obmascik,2011-09-27 Follows the 1998 Big Year competition between Sandy Komito Al Levantin and Greg Miller during which the three rivals risked their lives to set a new North American birding record Golden Wings and Other Stories about Birders and Birding Pete Dunne,2003-04-01 Dubbed the Bard of America s Bird Watchers by the Wall Street Journal Pete Dunne knows birders and birding instinctively and completely He understands the compulsion that drives other birders to go out at first light whatever the weather for a chance to maybe just maybe glimpse that rare migrant that someone might have spotted in a patch of woods the day before yesterday And yet he also knows how well strange the birding obsession becomes when viewed through the eyes of a nonbirder His dual perspective totally engrossed in birding yet still aware of the odd birdness of some birders makes reading his essays a pure pleasure whether you pursue the feather quest or not This book collects forty one of Dunne s recent essays drawn from his columns in Living Bird Wild Bird News the New Jersey Sunday section of the New York Times Birder s World and other publications Written with his signature wit and insight they cover everything from a moment of awed communion with a Wandering Albatross the most beautiful thing I d ever seen to Dunne s imagined perfect bird The Perfect Bird is the size of a turkey has the wingspan of an eagle the legs of a crane the feet of a moorhen and the talons of a great horned owl It eats kudzu surplus zucchini feral cats and has been known to predate upon homeowners who fire up their lawn mowers before 7 00 A M on the weekend The title essay pays whimsical yet heartfelt tribute to Dunne s mentor the late birding legend Roger Tory Peterson

All Things Reconsidered Roger Tory Peterson, 2007-11-14 Roger Tory Peterson s unique perspective on birding comes to life in these highly personal narratives Here he relates his adventures during a lifetime of birding and traveling the world to observe and record nature Though Peterson was widely known for his illustrations this collection reminds us to reconsider his accomplishments as a photographer for Peterson was nearly as passionate about photography as he was about painting The essays and photographs included here were carefully selected by Bill Thompson III the editor of Bird Watcher s Digest which ran the column All Things Reconsidered during the last twelve years of Peterson s life

Birding Clive Keen, 2014 The Feather Quest Pete Dunne, 1999 A diary of a birder s ideal year follows the author and his wife on their birding trips to the Arctic the Everglades the Northeast the Southwest and Canada

One More Warbler Victor Emanuel, S Kirk Walsh, 2017-05-09 Victor Emanuel is widely considered one of America s leading birders He has observed more than six thousand species during travels that have taken him to every continent He founded the largest company in the world specializing in birding tours and one of the most respected ones in ecotourism Emanuel has received some of birding s highest honors including the Roger Tory Peterson Award from the American Birding Association and the Arthur A Allen Award from the Cornell Laboratory of Ornithology He also started the first birding camps for young people which he considers one of his greatest achievements In One More Warbler Emanuel recalls a lifetime of birding adventures from his childhood sighting of a male Cardinal that ignited his passion for birds to a once in a lifetime journey to Asia to observe all eight species of cranes of that continent He tells fascinating stories of meeting his mentors who taught him about birds nature and conservation and later his close circle of friends Ted Parker Peter Matthiessen George Plimpton Roger Tory Peterson and others who he frequently birded and traveled with around the world Emanuel writes about the sighting of an Eskimo Curlew thought to be extinct on Galveston Island setting an all time national record during the annual Audubon Christmas Bird Count attempting to see the Imperial Woodpecker in northwestern Mexico and birding on the far flung island of Attu on the Aleutian chain Over the years Emanuel became a dedicated mentor himself teaching hundreds of young people the joys and enrichment of birding Birds changed my life says Emanuel and his stories make clear how a deep connection to the natural world can change everyone's life      More Tales of a Low-Rent Birder Pete Dunne, 1994-06-01 as the birding community has grown the gulf between what the beginner knows and what the expert knows has also grown wider and wider That's one of the reasons why Pete Dunne's writings are so valuable Pete is undeniably a top birder but he writes most of his material for people who are not In Dunne's birding world shared interest is the only coin of the realm and even the rank novice is greeted with respect from the foreword by Kenn Kaufman More Tales of a Low Rent Birder brings together twenty five recent essays that originally appeared in major birding publications In these pieces Pete Dunne ranges from wildly humorous to sadly elegiac as he describes everything from the field plumage of the dedicated birder to the lingering death of an accidentally injured golden plover Running like a thread through all the essays is Dunne's love and respect for the birds he watches his concern over human threats to their survival and his tolerance even affection for the human odd birds that birding attracts Truly these essays offer something for everyone interested in birds and the natural habitats our species share      Chasing Neotropical Birds Bob Thornton, 2005-04-01 From Belize to Brazil the forests of the American neotropics are home to an astonishing array of birds over 3 700 different species or nearly 40 percent of all the birds on earth Because of this overwhelming abundance birders come from all over the world to try to catch glimpses of species that can be found nowhere else such as toucans and antbirds motmots and manakins bellbirds and cocks of the rock and practically all of the planet's hummingbirds Two such birding enthusiasts are Vera and Bob Thornton who have spent fifteen years photographing these special and exotic birds in the rainforests of eleven different countries of Central and South America In this book you'll find more than a hundred spectacular color photographs they took during their travels along with a highly entertaining account of their adventures and misadventures in chasing these exotic neotropicals The birds pictured here are among the Thorntons' personal favorites birds that in their words either dazzled us with their beauty or charmed us by their behavior or in a few cases simply challenged us by the mystique of their rarity This latter category includes such elusive and sought after birds as the Black crowned Antpitta the Zigzag Heron the Rufous vented Ground Cuckoo the Bare necked Umbrellabird and the monkey eating Harpy Eagle In the accompanying text Bob Thornton engagingly describes the challenges as well as the magic of negotiating the neotropical rainforests in search of colorful birds to photograph For those who would like to follow in the Thorntons' footsteps there are also helpful tips about photographic gear and techniques preferred places to see the birds lodging and guides For everyone who enjoys excellent nature photography Chasing Neotropical Birds is a must have volume on the coffee table or in the library      When Birds Are Near Susan Fox Rogers, 2020 A literary collection that explores and celebrates a life with birds
