Character and Conflict in Jane Austen's Novels Bernard J. Paris, 2013-02-01 Originally published Detroit Wayne State University Press 1978      Character and Conflict in Jane Austen's Novels Bernard J. Paris, 1979      Reading Character in Jane Austen's Emma Marjet Berendsen, 1991 Proefschrift Universiteit van Amsterdam In deze studie worden de begrippen literair personage en personage effect geanalyseerd vanuit een viertal invalshoeken personage als set codes als interpretant als gestructureerde eenheid en als leeservaring Jane Austens Emma dient hierbij als illustratiemateriaal persoonlijke leeservaringen zowel als interpretaties van anderen worden besproken en verantwoord      Jane Austen's Lovers and Other Studies in Fiction and History from Austen to Le Carré John Halperin, 1988      Portraits of Pioneers in Psychology Gregory A. Kimble, Michael Wertheimer, 2000-11 This fourth book in the series continues the tradition of the popular earlier volumes by offering lively and entertaining information about some of contemporary psychology's most illustrious ancestors The 21 chapters many of them written by today's most visible and eminent authors concentrate on the lives and achievements of major psychologists from a variety of areas Created for undergraduate and graduate courses in the history of psychology the variety of pioneers represented provide enough flexibility to also use it as a supplemental reader in other psychology courses Each of the five volumes in this series contains different profiles thereby bringing more than 100 of the pioneers in psychology more vividly to life      Heaven and Its Discontents Bernard J. Paris, 2017-09-08 Many critics agree with C S Lewis that Satan is the best drawn of Milton's characters Satan is certainly a wonderful creation but Adam and Eve are also complex and well drawn and God may be the most complicated character of all Paradise Lost is above all God's story it is his discontent first with Lucifer and then with human beings that drives the action from the beginning until his anger subsides at the world's end God and Satan have similarities not only in their pursuit of revenge but also in their craving for power and glory The ambitious Satan wants more than he already has but what accounts for the voracity of God's appetite Does the fact that each threatens the status of the other help to explain the intensity of their hatred and rage Is their vindictiveness a response to being threatened an effort to repair the injury they feel they've sustained This seems to be the case for Satan but must not God also have felt deeply hurt to have such a powerful need for vengeance If so why is the Almighty so vulnerable And why is he so hard on Adam and Eve and the rest of humankind These are the kinds of questions Bernard Paris tries to answer in this book Paris's purpose is not to focus on Milton's illustrative intentions but to try to understand God Satan Adam and Eve as psychologically motivated characters who are torn by inner conflicts Most critics treat Milton's characters as coded messages from the author but their mimetic features interfere with the process of decoding Instead of looking through the characters to the author Paris looks at Milton's characters as objects of interest in themselves as creations inside a creation who escape their thematic roles and are embodiments of his psychological intuitions This book heightens our appreciation of an ignored aspect of Milton's art and offers new insights into the critical controversies that have surrounded

Paradise Lost      Fictional Characters, Real Problems Garry Hagberg, 2016 These new essays explore central aspects of the ethical content of literature character its formation and its role in moral discernment poetic vision in the context of ethical understanding self identity and self understanding literature s role in moral growth and change and the historical background of the ethical dimension of literature      Critical Essays on Jane Austen Laura Mooneyham White, 1998 A collection of critical essays that discuss the life and work of Jane Austen      Dostoevsky's Greatest Characters Bernard J. Paris, 2008-01-15 Addressed to all readers of Dostoevsky as well as to teachers students and specialists this lucidly written study approaches the underground man Raskolnikov and Ivan and Alyosha Karamazov as imagined human beings whose feelings behaviors and ideas are expressions of their personalities and experience While asserting the autonomy of Dostoevsky s characters Paris shows that there is a tension between them and the author s rhetoric and demonstrates that the characters often escape their illustrative roles By paying close attention to mimetic detail this book seeks to recover Dostoevsky s psychological intuitions and fully to appreciate his brilliance in characterization      Third Force Psychology and the Study of Literature Bernard J. Paris, 1986      Dramatized Consciousness in the Novels of Juan Valera Alejandro Caceres, 1992      Psychoanalysis, Psychology, and Literature, a Bibliography. 2nd Ed. 2 Vol Set Norman Kiell, 1982 Almost 20 000 entries of worldwide literature related to psychology and psychiatry as these disciplines are dealt with in literary publications Most of the contents of the first edition are included in the second Divided into sections of such forms as drama poetry folklore and myths Each numbered entry includes bibliographical information Author title and subject indexes      Encounter , 1979      Encounter Stephen Spender, Irving Kristol, 1979      Stories of Reading Michael Steig, 1989      Directory of American Scholars Xerox Education Publications, 1978      Studies in the Literary Imagination , 1989      Nineteenth-Century Literature Criticism Juliet Byington, 2001-05 Presents literary criticism on the works of nineteenth century writers of all genres nations and cultures Critical essays are selected from leading sources including published journals magazines books reviews diaries broadsheets pamphlets and scholarly papers Criticism includes early views from the author s lifetime as well as later views including extensive collections of contemporary analysis      The Romantic Movement David V. Erdman, Brian J. Dendle, 1980      A Guide to Literary Criticism and Research Bonnie Klomp Stevens, Larry L. Stewart, 1996 Like the first two editions of A Guide to Literary Criticism and Research this edition is based both on a recognition of a practical need felt in many literature courses and a view of literary study It attempts to meet the practical need by offering upper level students a condensed but adequate guide to the range of modern criticism and to basic methods of research In addition it is a hope that the book will give students a more comprehensive view of literary study by helping them to recognize criticism and research as two closely linked parts of a single process
