Characters Of The Crucifixion:

The Characters of the Crucifixion Joseph Fichtner, 2000 Fichtner offers a striking retelling of the passion narrative that enables anyone to participate in the crucifixion today as a Peter Mary Magdalene or Mary Mother of Jesus not only in suffering but also in the triumph He vividly retells 38 of Jesus stories by characterizing 15 people who are somehow involved in the crucifixion of Christ Each presentation concludes with a reflection prayer which updates the event of the crucifixion and shows its personal and social implications Characters of the Crucifixion Robert Wilkerson, 2011 Have you ever wondered what was it like for people during Christ's trial and crucifixion Have you considered how the extraordinary events affected those who participated as well as those who watched from a distance Examining the characters that crossed paths with Jesus on his way to the cross reveals the questions and struggles they faced Today we deal with the some of the same issues and questions such as Is it possible to be a secret disciple What is life's greatest question How can we ensure being loved by Jesus If we ever deny Christ are we finished In what ways does God warn us of danger Examining what Scripture says about the disciples Mary the centurion Herod and many other fascinating people reveals the answers to these questions and much more We discover how to enjoy a closer relationship with Jesus Christ Eight Sermons on the Nativity, Personal Character, Crucifixion and Death, Resurrection and Ascension of Christ Henry DIMOCK, 1806 The esoteric character of the Gospels Helena Petrovna Blavatsky, 1895 An Inquiry Into the Character and Authorship of the Fourth Gospel James Drummond, 1903 Catalogue of the Library and a Brief List of the Engravings and Etchings Belonging to Theodore Irwin, Oswego, N.Y. Theodore Irwin, 1887 The Sovereignty of Character Albert Durrant Watson, 1914 List of Subject Headings for Use in Dictionary Catalogs American Library Association, 1914 Lower hall. Chambers's Encyclopaedia, 1887 Transactions of the Scottish Ecclesiological Society Scottish Ecclesiological Society, 1906 Bulletin of the New York State Museum, 1903 Paul Claudel's 'Le Soulier de satin' Joan S. Freilich, 1973-12-15 Claudel's most important work Le Soulier de satin has confused and puzzled readers since it first appeared Joan S Freilich's intensive examination of Claudel's imagery combined stylistic structuralist and psychoanalytic analyses These are new methods that have been developed over the past two decades and are based on an examination of the text from the reader's point of view This is a radical break with conventional literary studies which examine literature biographically or comparatively i e focusing on the relationship of the text to other works written by the same or different authors to the author's life and historical setting or to various linguistic norms Recent stylistic studies have as their point of departure the reader's perception of certain elements of style as unpredictable and thus marked in an otherwise unmarked context such studies seek to determine which of these stylistic devices are present within a given text and what their effect is on the reader's response to the work Structuralist analyses involve the identification and description of the basic system of concepts around which the literary text is constructed This fundamental system or structure is the source of the reader's sense that the text is a coherent whole but it is itself an abstraction and can be perceived only through one or more of the variants through which it is actualized in the text Finally the psychoanalytic interpretation of a literary work attempts to elucidate the most fundamental effective concepts conveyed through the text concepts which evoke corresponding emotional responses in the reader and which although often unrecognized are thus responsible for much of his interest in and appreciation of the work Stylistic and structuralist methods have been used together in recent years but this study of the Soulier de satin represents the first time that psychoanalytic interpretation has been included as part of a stylistic and structuralist analysis in which the focus throughout is on the relationship of the text to the reader and the point of departure is the reader's response to the work Furthermore most Claudelian criticism has been vague and general in nature but this work is specific and represents an unusual and unique contribution
