Charismatic Christianity As A Global Culture:

Charismatic Christianity as a Global Culture Karla O. Poewe, 1994 In this important work leading scholars in the fields of religion and anthropology discuss the thought patterns and religious traditions of charismatics throughout the world. By examining believers throughout the Americas, Africa, Asia, and Europe, the contributors provide a comprehensive overview of a charismatic tapestry that appears to transcend national, ethnic, racial, and class boundaries. New Religions As

Global Cultures Irving Hexham, Karla Poewe, 2018-02-12 Although the Great Anti Cult Crusade links new religious movements to dangerous cults, brainwashing, and the need for deprogramming, Karla Poewe and Irving Hexham argue that many cults are the product of a dynamic interaction between folk religions and the teachings of traditional world religions. Drawing on examples from Africa, the United States, Asia, and Europe, they suggest that few new religions are really new. Most draw on rich, if localized, cultural traditions that are shaped anew by the influence of technological change and international linkages. With the widespread loss of belief in biblical mythology in the nineteenth century, new mythologies based on science and elements derived from various non-Western religious traditions emerged, leading to the growth and popularity of new religions and cults. Spaces of Global Cultures Anthony King, 2004-08-02

SDraws on social, cultural, and postcolonial writings and architectural evidence from various cities around the world to examine existing theories of globalization and also develop new ones. Constructing Vernacular Culture in the Trans-Caribbean Holger Henke, Karl-Heinz Magister, 2008-01-01 Constructing Vernacular Culture in the Trans Caribbean traces the contradictory cultural trajectories constructed and re-produced in the fluid diasporic spaces we call the Trans Caribbean. Particular emphasis is placed on such cultural expressions that reflect or derive from the cultural vernacular and popular culture as it exists in these spaces. Its multidisciplinary approach and focus on different language areas in the Trans Caribbean are of particular interest to scholars in cultural studies, migration, literary theory, and cultural criticism. The Globalisation of Charismatic Christianity

Simon Coleman, 2000-10-02 This 2000 book analyses the revival of charismatic Protestant Christianity as an example of globalization. Simon Coleman shows that along with many social movements, these religious conservatives are negotiating their own interpretations of global and postmodern processes. They are constructing an evangelical arena of action and meaning within the liminal, chaotic space of the global. The book examines globalization not only as a social process but also as an embodied practice involving forms of language and ritualized movement. Charismatic Christianity is presented through its material culture, art, architecture, and consumer products as well as its rhetoric and theology. The book provides an account of the incorporation of electronic media such as television, videos, and the Internet into Christian worship. Issues relating to the conduct of fieldwork in contexts of globalization are raised in an account which is also a major ethnography of a Faith ministry. Going to Pentecost Annelin Eriksen, Ruy Llera Blanes, Michelle MacCarthy, 2019-02-18 Co-authored by three anthropologists with long-term expertise studying Pentecostalism in Vanuatu, Angola, and Papua New Guinea, the Trobriand

Islands respectively Going to Pentecost offers a comparative study of Pentecostalism in Africa and Melanesia focusing on key issues as economy urban sociality and healing More than an ordinary comparative book it recognizes the changing nature of religion in the contemporary world in particular the emergence of non territorial religion which is no longer specific to places or cultures and represents an experimental approach to the study of global religious movements in general and Pentecostalism in particular

Globalization and the Re-shaping of Christianity in the Pacific Islands Manfred Ernst,2006 In recent years religion has received a good deal of attention in the discourse on globalization Christianity in its Pentecostal charismatic evangelical and fundamentalist forms seems to have thrived in the globalizing climate This is the most systematic account available of contemporary developments of Christianity in the Pacific Islands Back cover

Christianity and Culture Martin S. Reed,2002 In over 2 000 years Christianity has made the overwhelming impact on the culture of the Western world in particular But culture has also helped to shape the development and form of Christianity since the interaction of two such powerful phenomena cannot help but change the other This new book brings together over 1200 citations on Christianity and Culture which are indexed by subject title and author for easy access
