Charlemagnes Mustache And Other Cultural Clusters Of A Dark Age:

Charlemagne's Mustache P. Dutton, 2016-04-30 Charlemagne's Mustache presents the reader with seven engaging studies thick descriptions of cultural life and thought in the Carolingian world The author begins by asking questions Why did Charlemagne have a mustache and why did hair matter Why did the king own peacocks and other exotic animals Why was he writing in bed and could he write at all How did medieval kings become stars How were secrets kept and conveyed in the early Middle Ages And why did early medieval peoples believe in storm and hailmakers The answers he found are often surprising

Charlemagne's Practice of Empire Jennifer R. Davis, 2015-08-20 A new interpretation of Charlemagne examining how the Frankish king and his men learned to govern the first European empire

Micro Middle Ages Paul Edward Dutton, 2023-10-30 Micro Middle Ages brings together five microhistorical case studies focusing on small or seemingly inconsequential evidence that leads to broader conclusions about medieval history and the way we do and understand history in general Paul Dutton provides an overview of microhistorical approaches and theorizes about its use in pre modern history As opposed to studying history from above or history from below Dutton shows the advantages for historians of doing history from the inside out starting from some single overlooked but potentially knowable thing delving deep inside and then reattaching it to its time and place Such an approach has one abiding advantage its insistence on being grounded in the particularity of the evidence The book highlights what the microhistorical is its conceptual and practical challenges Dutton argues that the attention to the micro has always been with us and is a constitutive cognitive part of who we are as human beings

Continuation or Change? Borders and Frontiers in Late Antiquity and Medieval Europe Gregory Leighton, Łukasz Różycki, Piotr Pranke, 2022-09-19 This volume examines interdisciplinary boundaries and includes texts focusing on material culture philological analysis and historical research What they all have in common are zones that lie in between treated not as mere barriers but also as places of exchange in the early Middle Ages Focusing on borderlands Continuation or Change uncovers the changing political and military organisations at the time and the significance of the functioning of former borderland areas The chapters answer how the fiscal and military apparatus were organised identify the turning points in the division of dynastic power and assign meaning to the assimilation of certain symbolic and ideological elements of the imperial tradition Finally the authors offer answers to what exactly a statehood without a state was in regard to semi peripheral and peripheral areas that were also perceived through the prism of the idea of a world system network theory or the concept of so called negotiating borderlands Continuation or Change is a useful resource for upper level undergraduates postgraduates and scholars interested in medieval warfare Eastern European history medieval border regions and cross cultural interaction

Sexuality in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Times Albrecht Classen, 2008-12-10 Sexuality is one of the most influential factors in human life The responses to and reflections upon the manifestations of sexuality provide fascinating insights into fundamental aspects of medieval and early modern culture This interdisciplinary volume with articles written by social historians literary historians musicologists art historians and historians of religion and mental ity demonstrates how fruitful collaborative efforts can be in the exploration of essential features of human society Practically every aspect of culture both in the Middle Ages and the early modern age was influenced and determined by sexuality which hardly ever surfaces simply characterized by prurient interests The treatment of sexuality in literature chronicles music art legal documents and in scientific texts illuminates central concerns anxieties tensions needs fears and problems in human society throughout times

Negotiating the Landscape Ellen F. Arnold, 2012-12-18 Negotiating the Landscape explores the question of how medieval religious identities were shaped and modified by interaction with the natural environment Focusing on the Benedictine monastic community of Stavelot Malmedy in the Ardennes Ellen F Arnold draws upon a rich archive of charters property and tax records correspondence miracle collections and saints lives from the seventh to the mid twelfth century to explore the contexts in which the monks intense engagement with the natural world was generated and refined Arnold argues for a broad cultural approach to medieval environmental history and a consideration of a medieval environmental imagination through which people perceived the nonhuman world and their own relation to it Concerned to reassert medieval Christianity s vitality and variety Arnold also seeks to oppose the historically influential view that the natural world was regarded in the premodern period as provided by God solely for human use and exploitation The book argues that rather than possessing a single unifying vision of nature the monks drew on their ideas and experience to create and then manipulate a complex understanding of their environment Viewing nature as both wild and domestic they simultaneously acted out several roles as stewards of the land and as economic agents exploiting natural resources They saw the natural world of the Ardennes as a type of wilderness a pastoral haven and a source of human salvation and actively incorporated these differing views of nature into their own attempts to build their community understand and establish their religious identity and relate to others who shared their landscape

A Cultural History of Hair in the Middle Ages Roberta Milliken, 2020-12-10 The Middle Ages were a time of great innovation artistic vigor and cultural richness Appearances mattered a great deal during this vibrant era and hair was a key marker of the dynamism and sophistication of the period Hair became ever more central to religious iconography from Mary Magdalen to the Virgin Mary while vernacular poets embellished their verses with descriptions of hairstyles both humble and elaborate and merchants imported the finest hair products from great distances Drawing on a wealth of visual textual and object sources the volume examines how hairstyles and their representations developed often to a degree of dazzling complexity between the years AD 800 and AD 1450 From wimpled matrons and tonsured monks to adorned noblewomen hair is revealed as a potent cultural symbol of gender age sexuality health class and race Illustrated with approximately 80 images A Cultural History of Hair in the Middle Ages brings together leading scholars to present an overview of the period with essays on politics science religion fashion beauty the visual arts and popular culture

The Legend of Charlemagne in the Middle Ages Matthew Gabriele, Jace

Stuckey,2008-09-15 These essays take advantage of a new exciting trend towards interdisciplinary research on the Charlemagne legend Written by historians art historians and literary scholars these essays focus on the multifaceted ways the Charlemagne legend functioned in the Middle Ages and how central the shared if nonetheless fictional memory of the great Frankish ruler was to the medieval West A gateway to new research on memory crusading apocalyptic expectation Carolingian historiography and medieval kingship the contributors demonstrate the fuzzy line separating fact and fiction in the Middle Ages Cultural Diversity in the British Middle Ages Jeffrey Jerome Cohen,2008 The contributors to this volume seek moments of cultural admixture and heterogeneity within texts that have often been assumed to belong to a single national canon discovering moments when familiar and bounded space erupt into unexpected diversity and infinite realms

Jacket Gender and Power in Medieval Exegesis Theresa Tinkle,2010-09-15 Gender and Power in Medieval Exegesis analyzes the nexus of gender and power in biblical commentaries from the fifth to the fifteenth century focusing on crucial moments in the development of exegesis The argument pursues the literary trope of the woman on top through major literary exegetical works Augustine's Confessions Jerome's Against Jovinian the Fleury Slaughter of Innocents and Chaucer's Wife of Bath's Prologue Theresa Tinkle reveals how the authoritative woman in these works can signify either a troubling disruption of ordained social order or an admirable inversion of order that sets the Church apart from dominant culture Establishing a feminist historicist perspective this book situates exegesis in history and exposes the cultural pressures behind exegetes decision making Medieval Monks and Their World David R. Blanks,Michael Frassetto,Amy Livingstone,2006 These essays examine the ideas that were important to monks and the intersections between the monks and the secular world The volume explores the ideas and realities that shaped the lives of monks over the medieval millennium The Enthroned Corpse of Charlemagne John F. Moffitt,2007 This work focuses on a wholly new explanation for the dramatic appearance of Charlemagne's body by studying various historical traditions and cultural contexts Chapters examine such topics as Charlemagne's legacy and its role in Alfred Rethel's Karlsfresken Sainte Foy as an imperial effigy and as an apocryphal figure and contexts for and the meaning of Charlemagne's Karlsgrab P 4 of cover Medieval Romance and the Construction of Heterosexuality L. Sylvester,2008-07-21 This book interrogates our ideas about heterosexuality through examination of medieval romance narratives Familiar configurations of romantic fiction such as male desire overwhelming feminine reluctance and the aloof masculine hero undone by love derive from this period This book tests current theories of language and desire through stylistic analysis examining transitivity choices and speech acts in sexual encounters and conversations in medieval romances In the context of current preoccupations with gender and sexuality and consent in rape cases this study is of interest to scholars investigating language and sexuality as well as those researching and teaching medieval literature and culture Late Medieval Jewish Identities Carmen Caballero-Navas,Maria Esperanza Alfonso,2010-11-15 Medieval Iberia offers one of the few examples of coexistence over an extended period of time between

Jews Muslims and Christians in pre modern Europe Taking the Jewish community as a focal point this book thoroughly explores the various borders geographical divides religious affiliations gender boundaries genre divisions that ruled the lives and intellectual production of late medieval Jews By shedding new light on the ways in which these boundaries generated the Jewish communities multiple overlapping and conflicting identities this book breaks new ground in the study of cultural exchange in the Middle Ages

A Garland of Satire, Wisdom, and History Jan M. Ziolkowski, Bridget K. Balint, 2007 This book brings into print editions translations and commentaries for more than two dozen unique poems in Latin from the late eleventh and early twelfth century preserved in Houghton Library's anthology known as MS Lat 300 This book offers unparalleled access to the anthology previously unavailable in English From a literary point of view those interested in lyric poetry composed in Old French and Old Provençal have paid increasing attention to Latin poetry that circulated in France and of course those wishing to trace the background of the Carmina Burana have reason to study this kind of collection but many poems remain unedited and even more cry out for translation and contextualization With the publication of the accompanying facsimiles palaeographers may now be able to solve the puzzle of where the manuscript originated its story between the Napoleonic wars and 1965 when it was purchased by Harvard All told this volume opens the way to advances in medieval studies

Anglo-Saxons in a Frankish World, 690-900 James T. Palmer, 2009 This series focuses on Western Europe in the Early Middle Ages and covers work in the areas of history language literature archaeology art history and religious studies It brings together current scholarship on early medieval Britain with scholarship on western continental Europe and Viking Scandinavia these areas have more traditionally been studied separately or in terms of the interaction of discrete cultures and regions As well as advocating new approaches across geographical and political divisions this series spans the conventional distinctions between Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages on the one hand and the Early Middle Ages and the twelfth century on the other

Environment and the Shaping of Monastic Identity Ellen Fenzel Arnold, 2006

Seeing the Invisible in Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages Giselle de Nie, Karl Frederick Morrison, Marco Mostert, 2005 Limiting itself to the vital centuries when the late Roman West reshaped itself into a first Europe the conference explored the dominant conception of human nature in that era that human existence was both body in the visible world of material things and soul in the invisible world of spirit This was a legacy of pre Christian elements handed down from Greek philosophy and Hebrew Scriptures Assimilating it to indigenous cultures in the Roman West many alien to the ancient Mediterranean world precipitated sea changes in the understanding of human psychology Ensuing frictions sparked extraordinary expressions of creativity in words and visual images It also created dangerously subversive disequilibriums in the collective mentality within elites and between them and majority cultures The papers in this volume investigate numerous configurations of a new culture taking shape in that volatile environment They contribute to continuing debates about the cognitive coordination of words and pictorial images and to cross disciplinary dialogues in such disparate fields as art
