Novel by Charles*

Dickens, 2016-11-15 Our Mutual Friend 1864 5 is the last completed novel written by Charles Dickens. It centers on, in the words of critic J. Hillis Miller, "money money money and what money can make of life," which is incidentally a quote from Our Mutual Friend spoken by Bella at the end of book III, chapter iv. In the opening chapter, a young man is on his way to receive his inheritance, which according to his father's will he can only claim if he marries Bella Wilfer, a beautiful mercenary girl whom he has never met. However, before he can arrive, a body is found in the Thames and identified as him. The money passes on instead to the Boffins, and the effects spread throughout various corners of London society. The book is largely believed to be the most challenging and complicated that Dickens produced. Reviews at the time of publication were not generally favorable, but critical opinion shifted in the century that followed. Although somewhat a mystery, an important point concerning the identity of certain characters is revealed halfway through without hinting as to the ending. The Cambridge History of English Literature Sir Adolphus William Ward, Alfred Rayney Waller, 1917 Rab and His Friends John Brown, 1862
