A World of Weather Lee M. Grenci,Jon M. Nese,2001 Wait Five Minutes Shelley Ingram,Willow G. Mullins,2023-05-18 Contributions by Emma Frances Bloomfield Sheila Bock Kristen Bradley Hannah Chapple James Deutsch M irt Hanley Christine Hoffmann Kate Parker Horigan Shelley Ingram John Laudun Jordan Lovejoy Lena Marander Eklund Jennifer Morrison Willow G Mullins Anne Pryor Todd Richardson and Claire Schmidt The weather governs our lives It fills gaps in conversations determines our dress and influences our architecture No matter how much our lives may have moved indoors no matter how much we may rely on technology we still monitor the weather Wait Five Minutes Weatherlore in the Twenty First Century draws from folkloric literary and scientific theory to offer up new ways of thinking about this most ancient of phenomena Weatherlore is a concept that describes the folk beliefs and traditions about the weather that are passed down casually among groups of people Weatherlore can be predictive such as the belief that more black than brown fuzz on a woolly bear caterpillar signals a harsh winter It can be the familiar commentary that eases daily social interactions such as asking Is it hot or cold enough for you Other times it is simply ubiquitous If you don t like the weather wait five minutes and it will change From detailing personal experiences at picnics and suburban lawns to critically analyzing storm stories novels and flood legends contributors offer engaging multidisciplinary perspectives on weatherlore As we move further into the twenty first century an increasing awareness of climate change and its impacts on daily life calls for a folkloristic reckoning with the weather and a rising need to examine vernacular understandings of weather and climate Weatherlore helps us understand and shape global political conversations about climate change and biopolitics at the same time that it influences individual group and regional lives and identities We use weather and thus its folklore to make meaning of ourselves our groups and quite literally our world

Lycra, Lattes and the Long Way Round Mark Krieger,2011-11-11 As I drew closer to the town of Pont de Vaux I found myself thinking of some of the places Id passed through There were so many tiny hamlets villages and larger towns some vibrant and fine looking others lifeless run down and in dire need of repair Then there were of course the countless numbers of French people who had helped me piece together the jigsaw of roads along my way The places I was riding through werent quite the same but there was that unmistakable pungent smell of agriculture in the air and the sight of fat cows chomping lazily on mouthfuls of grass It was vastly different from the Hautes Alps and the bustling stretch of Mediterranean coast but full of its own charm and character nonetheless Beginning with the idea of tackling some of Europes most formidable mountains on his road bike Mark Krieger along with his wife Roz started his journey around France from the medieval town of Langres and instantly fell in love with the country Known for its history culture fine cuisine and above all its cycling it became the perfect setting for a Tour of a lifetime
