High Spain Drifter Mark Krieger, 2017-05-17 Cyclist Mark Krieger and his wife Roz set off on another of their many fascinating journeys throughout Europe this time around Spain and Portugal's Iberian Peninsula Following the footsteps of the Tour de France and Spain's Vuelta a España through the Pyrenees Mark recalls many of cycling's memorable moments some inspirational and some that the sport would rather forget Across the border into Spain summer is approaching a time when Catalonians are in festival mode Travelling west there is a treacherous goat track near Oviedo that Mark's determined to conquer after two failed attempts Arriving in Portugal the pair are enthralled by the country's history events like the Age of Discoveries the 1755 earthquake the Carnation Revolution and the humble beginnings of Fado As for the present there's nothing better than the food and the distinctive way it's presented Large cities are not normally on Mark's to do list especially when cycling is involved but drenched in history and abundantly alive in the present Lisbon proves an awesome exception Just as evocative in its own way is the small Spanish town of Trigueros Once the sun goes down its previously near deserted streets come alive Continuing through the south of Spain the travelers visit the Sierra Nevada range It's here where Mark tries to fulfill another obsession to cycle up its highest peak Pico de Veleta Much higher and harder than any mountain he's ever dreamed of tackling its final kilometres of treacherous road make the thought of continuing seem foolish Fast approaching the town of Solsona where his cycling trek began Mark recalls some of the memories he and Roz have shared on their journey while the thought of where to next is never far away
