Dingo Makes Us Human Life And Land In An Australian Aboriginal Culture:

Dingo Makes Us Human Deborah Bird Rose, 2000-08-28 This ethnography explores the culture of the Yarralin people in the Northern Territory Dingo Makes Us Human Robert Tonkinson, 1994 Book review Dingo Makes Us Human

Deborah Bird Rose, 2000-08-28 This original ethnography brings indigenous people's stories into conversations around troubling questions of social justice and environmental care Deborah Bird Rose lived for two years with the Yarralin community in the Northern Territory's remote Victoria River Valley Her engagement with the people's stories and their action in the world leads her to this analysis of a multi-centred poetics of life and land The book speaks to issues that are of immediate and broad concern today traditional ecological knowledge kinship between humans and other living things colonising history environmental history and sacred geography Now in paperback this award-winning exploration of the Yarralin people is available to a whole new readership The boldly direct and personal approach will be illuminating and accessible to general readers while also of great value to experienced anthropologists Indigenous Law and the Politics of Kincentricity and Orality Amanda Kearney, John Bradley, Vincent Dodd, Dinah Norman a-Marrngawi, Mavis Timothy a-Muluwamara, Graham Friday Dimanyurru, Annie a-Karrakayny, 2023-04-11 This Palgrave Pivot strives to recount and understand Indigenous Law as set within a remote community in northern Australia It pays close attention to the realpolitik and high level political functioning of Indigenous Laws which inspires a discussion of how this Law models the relational influences governance and emplaces people in an ordered kincentric lifeworld The book argues that Indigenous Law can be examined for the ways in which it is a deliberate stabilizing and powerful force to maintain communal order in relation to Country a counter framing to popular and soft law or soft power asset visions of such Laws often held in the national and international imaginary It is the latter which too often renders this knowledge esoteric and relinquishes it to a category of lore or folklore This is an open access book Creativity in Human Evolution and Prehistory Steven Mithen, 2005-08-10

The book examines how our understanding of human creativity can be extended by exploring this phenomenon during human evolution and prehistory Feminist Ecologies Lara Stevens, Peta Tait, Denise Varney, 2017-12-05 This edited volume critically engages with ecofeminist scholarship It tracks the ongoing dialogue between women's issues and environmental change by republishing the work of pioneering scholars and activists in the field Together with new essays by contemporary ecofeminist scholars the book uncovers the dialectical relationship between environmental and feminist causes the relational identities of feminists and ecofeminists and the concept of ecofeminism as a rallying point for environmental feminism The volume defines ecofeminism as a multidisciplinary project and will appeal to readers working within the field of Environmental Humanities De-colonising the Biblical Narrative, Volume 1 Norman Habel, 2022-09-01 De-colonising the Biblical Narrative Volume One represents a landmark in contemporary hermeneutics In this volume we take into account our colonial history and develop a de-colonising hermeneutic which we employ to identify the colonial editing of the text and to retrieve precolonial narratives with which First Nations peoples of Australia may resonate In the first volume we attempt to de colonise the narratives of Genesis 1 11 and retrieve pre colonial legends that are comparable to First Nations ancestral narratives In Genesis One for example we retrieve a Primal Land Narrative in which the primordial ground is born comes to life creates life and is named Land by the Creator Spirit As we work through the traditions of Genesis 1 11 we also discern colonial additions like the mandate to dominate associated with the Imago Dei in Genesis 1 26 28 At the close of the analysis of each narrative we include the response of First Nations Australia thereby illustrating not only the significance of our finding but also the relevance for First Nations peoples

Violence in Place, Cultural and Environmental Wounding Amanda Kearney, 2016-11-25 Human life is intimately woven into place Through nations and homelands monuments and sacred sites it becomes the anchorage point for ethnic cultural and national identities Yet it is also place that becomes the battlefield war zone mass grave desecrated site and destroyed landscape in the midst or aftermath of cultural wounding Much attention has been given to the impact of trauma and violence on human lives across generations but what of the spaces in which it occurs How does culturally prescribed violence impact upon place And how do the non human species with whom we coexist also suffer through episodes of conflict and violence By identifying violence in place as a crisis of our times and by encouraging both the witnessing and the diagnosing of harm this book reveals the greater effects of cultural wounding It problematises the habit of separating human life out from the ecologies in which it is held If people and place are bound through kinship whether through necessity and survival or choice and abiding love then wounding is co terminus The harms done to one will impact upon the other Case studies from Australia North and South America Europe and the Pacific illustrate the impact of violence in place while supporting a campaign for methodologies that reveal the fullness of the relational bond between people and place The book will appeal to students and practitioners alike with interests in cultural and human geography anthropology environmental humanities and moral ecology

Gender, Planning, and Human Rights Tovi Fenster, 1999 Gender Planning and Human Rights explores the geographies and spatialities of human rights with particular emphasis on the connections between gender and human rights in planning and development

Mediating Across Difference Morgan J. Brigg, Roland Bleiker, 2011-01-31 Mediating Across Difference is based on a fundamental premise to deal adequately with conflict and particularly with conflict stemming from cultural and other differences requires genuine openness to different cultural practices and dialogue between different ways of knowing and being Equally essential is a shift away from understanding cultural difference as an inevitable source of conflict and the development of a more critical attitude toward previously under examined Western assumptions about conflict and its resolution To address the ensuing challenges this book introduces and explores some of the rich insights into conflict resolution emanating from Asia and Oceania Although often overlooked these local traditions offer a range of useful ways of thinking about and dealing with difference and conflict in a globalizing world To bring these traditions into exchange with mainstream Western conflict resolution the editors present the results of collaborative work between experienced scholars and culturally knowledgeable practitioners from numerous parts of Asia and Oceania The result is a series of interventions that challenge conventional Western notions of conflict resolution and provide academics policy makers diplomats mediators and local conflict workers with new possibilities to approach prevent and resolve conflict Contributors Roland Bleiker Volker Boege Morgan Brigg Stephen Chan Frans de Jalong Sr Lorraine Garasu Mary Graham Hoang Young ju Carwyn Jones Joy Kere Debra McDougall Norifumi Namatame Chengxin Pan Oliver Richmond Deborah Bird Rose Muhadi Sugiono Tarja V yrynen Polly O Walker Jacqueline Wasilewski
