Dinners Ready Mom:

Dinner's Ready, Mom Helen Gustafson, 1986 Offers simple menus and step by step instructions for a variety of dinner dishes that may be prepared by children alone Also discusses basic cooking techniques and equipment Taylor Samara Jones, 2025-08-12 For as long as I can remember I've been in love Not with a real person of course But with the kind of love you read about in books the slow burns the grand gestures the undeniable meant to be The kind that always always ends with a happily ever after Then last Fourth of July while I was lost in another love story I missed something real My last chance to talk to Nanna My last chance to hug her to hear her voice to say goodbye She was just a few yards away and I never even looked up That was the moment I realized I've been living in stories instead of my own life So I made a promise to myself No more hiding No more waiting for something magical to happen I was going to start living for real this time But here's what nobody tells you life doesn't come with a roadmap There's no chapter to skip ahead to when things get hard no neatly wrapped up ending that makes everything suddenly make sense Now partway through the year I'm realizing just how much I've missed While I was busy falling for fictional guys the girls around me were actually dating them Some have kissed Some have done other things And me I wouldn't even know where to start But admitting that Letting people see how far behind I feel Not an option So I fake it I nod along laugh when I'm supposed to pretend like I know what I'm doing Meanwhile my anxiety is spiraling and I can't shake the feeling that I'll never catch up Braving Time Bonnie L. Collins, 2012-08-13 Braving Time is a vividly frank absorbing account of a teenager on the edge of womanhood as she faces loss of her loved ones through death mental illness and physical displacement and how it challenged her feeling of being held safe and connected to those she held dear in the world This memoir expresses a universal theme of how we as humans internalize such losses desperately wanting to find someone to fill the gaps someone to love us deeply unconditionally to lead us out of the dark night We do not see that these lessons are here for us to learn to live authentically self-reliantly and with integrity The elixir will be when we can trust in ourselves to take good care of our own self our inner child to rediscover who we truly are in our own right and then to revive our essential self This brings us into healthy connection belongingness with others and toward wholeness This is not a story of wholeness that would wait for another time Rather this is a story of resilience The Bellman, 1918 Six Houses Down Kari Rimbey, 2019-03-05 In this inspirational novel of family friendship and forgiveness a mother of an autistic boy learns to trust God's mysterious ways Though Sharon Webster's husband Bill is still in her life he is becoming increasingly distant After their son is diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder Bill accepts a promotion that requires lengthy absences from home But soon Sharon finds new faces entering her and her son's lives First a red-headed little girl climbs over the backyard fence to play Then an elderly couple who live close by become reliable friends But after Bill makes a surprise return their son slips out of the house and is lost in Washington DC To find him Sharon must rely on the husband she believes no longer loves her What she doesn't realize is that her new friends recognize her unspoken hurts and with God's guidance are determined to help. Inspired by her childhood foster brother Kari Rimbey's debut novel explores the disastrous consequences that can befall a family when communication breaks down. It serves as a reminder that God intends for people to reach out to others and that forgiveness is necessary for the heart to heal. Dinner's Ready!

Recipes for Working Moms Rebecca Cailor, 2021-02-20 Recipes for Working Moms came as a later in life idea for Rebecca Cailor as she looked back at raising two children by herself wondering how she found the time between two jobs to create ingenious recipes and contribute to their health. These recipes are more than just ideas on how to cook something fast to save you time. They are collected from a lifetime of trying different cuisines so that children will be more adaptable to new tastes as they grow up. These cuisine creations are both delicious and nutritious with specific instructions for those who may have sugar sensitivity or allergies. Some of the Southern American foods were from Cailor's sons' grandmother's recipes which were handed down to her. Other recipes she brought back from other countries and cultures. If you are a working mother you have little time to spare and these creations will both satisfy the most finicky taste buds and save you time and money.

World in Between Kenan Trebinčević, Susan Shapiro, 2021-07-27 This moving autobiographical novel for middle grade readers tells the gripping story of a Muslim boy's exile from war-torn Bosnia to the US. School Library Journal starred review. Kenan loves drawing and playing soccer with his friends. He wants to be a famous athlete and hates it when his classmates make fun of his buck teeth. He fights with his big brother who's too busy and cool for him lately. Sometimes his parents drive him crazy but he feels loved and protected until war breaks out and changes everything. Soon Kenan's family is trapped in their home with little food or water surrounded by enemies. Ten months later with help from friends and strangers they finally make it out of the country alive. But that's only the beginning of their journey. An action-packed page-turner with heart about a kid doing his best during difficult times. World in Between celebrates the power of community and resilience, hope and kindness. Glass Heart
