Disappearing Architecture From Real To Virtual To Quantum:

Disappearing Architecture Georg Flachbart, Peter Weibel, 2005 The creation of new environments through the use of developments in Information Technology is significantly altering not only architecture itself but also the roles and tasks of the architects Architecture can no longer be described in the terms we are familiar with since it no longer corresponds to the form of architecture as we know it an inclusive and exclusive structure clearly defined with a single interior and a single exterior For architects the challenge of the future will increasingly lie in creatively coming to terms with hybrid environments understanding and exploiting the design potential of digital spaces within the physical world and redefining the role of architecture within a visually dominated culture This volume presents a valuable and attractive contribution to the contemporary discussion on this subject

Keeping Up with Technologies to Create the Cognitive City Aleksandra Krstic-Furundzic, Eva Vanista Lazarevic, Aleksandra Đukić, 2019-01-23 This volume represents a selection of papers presented at the Third International Academic Conference on Places and Technologies held at the Faculty of Architecture of the University of Belgrade Serbia in April 2016 The conference brought together researchers PhD students and practitioners in order to create a platform for sharing knowledge in the fields of growth new technologies and the environment as well as particular aspects of achieving the concept of cognitive city The book will appeal primarily to members of the academic community in the fields of urban design planning and architecture engineering and technical sciences and the humanities and social sciences It will also be of interest to professional institutions and companies governments and NGOs who will directly benefit from the knowledge presented here

Cultural Ways of Worldmaking Vera Nünning, Ansgar Nünning, Birgit Neumann, 2010-06-29 Taking as its point of departure Nelson Goodman's theory of symbol systems as delineated in his seminal book Ways of Worldmaking this volume gauges the possibilities and perspectives offered by the worldmaking approach as a model for the study of culture Its main objectives are to explore the usefulness and scope of the approach for the study of culture and to supplement Goodman's philosophy of worldmaking with a number of complementary disciplinary perspectives literary and cultural approaches and new questions and applications It focuses on three key issues or concepts which illuminate ways of worldmaking and their interdisciplinary relevance and ramifications viz 1 theoretical approaches to ways of worldmaking 2 the impact of media on ways of worldmaking and 3 narratives as ways of worldmaking The volume serves to demonstrate how specific media and narratives affect the worlds that are created and shows how these worlds are established as socially relevant It also illustrates the extent to which ways of worldmaking are imbued with cultural values and thus inevitably implicated in power relations

Architectonics of Game Spaces Andri Gerber, Ulrich Götz, 2020-03-03 What consequences does the design of the virtual yield for architecture and to what extent can the nature of architecture be used productively to turn game worlds into sustainable places over here in reality This pioneering collection gives an overview of contemporary developments in designing video games and of the relationships such practices have established with the design of architecture Due to their often simulatory nature games reveal constructions of reality while positively impacting spatial ability and allowing for alternative avenues to complex topics and processes of negotiation Granting insight into the merging of the design of real and virtual environments this volume offers an invaluable platform for further debate

The Monster Leviathan Aaron Betsky, 2024-01-09 Visionary proposals for a mythic and strange architecture or anarchitecture through which we can imagine other and better worlds Lurking under the surface of our modern world lies an unseen architecture or anarchitecture It is a possible architecture an analogous architecture an architecture of anarchy which haunts in the form of monsters that are humans and machines and cities all at once or takes the form of explosions veils queer playful spaces or visions from artwork and video games In The Monster Leviathan Aaron Betsky traces anarchitecture through texts design and art of the twentieth and early twenty first century and suggests that these ephemeral evocations are concrete proposals in and of themselves Neither working models nor suggestions for new forms they are scenes just believable enough to convince us they exist or just fantastical enough to open our eyes The Monster Leviathan gives students and lovers of architecture as well as those hoping to construct a better more sustainable and socially just future a set of tools through which they can imagine that such other worlds are possible As Betsky eloquently articulates anarchitecture already exists and does not exist at all It is the myth of building and all we have to do is find it Netherlands),2006 A precursor to Arte Povera Fluxus and Punk the Situationist International has bequeathed a uniquely complex and conflicted legacy to contemporary art making Led by Guy Debord and Raoul Vaneigem it initially favored the production of art objects by 1962 collective debate on the role of art had caused the expulsion of its fine artist members including Asger Jorn other members of Cobra and the entire Munich based Gruppe SPUR The revolution envisaged by the Situationist International demanded creativity in everyday life the constructing of situations or the fashioning of a temporary micro environment and series of events for a single moment in the life of several individuals The Situationist International 1957 1972 the catalogue for the eponymous exhibition at Centraal Museum Utrecht and Museum Tinguely Basel is the first publication to evaluate the creative contributions of the SI It addresses three areas of Situationist practice firstly anonymous and communal artistic production e g Cobra Asger Jorn s folk art research and the Bauhaus Imaginiste secondly d tournement variously translated as diversion or subversion a key SI strategy in which extant works such as advertisements comics paintings or films are politically reconstituted by collage or other means and thirdly the practice of d rive drift or purposeless wandering in an urban milieu which generated the now widely known phenomenon of psychogeography and led to radical reassessments of architectural practice The Situationist International includes new unpublished SI documents and essays by Giorgio Agamben Hans Ulrich Obrist Peter Sloterdijk and Philippe Sollers Japanese Architecture ,1994
