Dimensions of Hazardous Waste Politics and Policy Charles E. Davis, James P. Lester, 1988-03-25 This volume explores the processes by which hazardous waste policies are formulated and implemented A collection of papers by distinguished scholars in the field this is the first treatment of the subject to address both the international and the domestic policy arenas Also the most current discussion of the topic available the book includes several articles which deal with the landmark 1984 amendments to the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act An important adjunct to courses in environmental politics public policy and intergovernmental relations this book sheds new light on the complex political process by which hazardous waste politics are developed enacted into law enforced and reassessed Hazardous Waste Siting and Democratic Choice Don Munton, 1996 This volume analyzes the politics of hazardous waste siting and explores promising new strategies for siting facilities Existing approaches to waste siting facilities have almost entirely failed across all industrialized countries largely because of community or NIMBY Not in My Backyard opposition This volume examines a new strategy voluntary choice siting a process requiring mutual decisions negotiated between facility developers and the host communities This bottom up approach preserves democratic rights recognizes the importance of public perceptions and addresses issues of equity In this collection an interdisciplinary group of experts probes recent examples of waste facilities siting in the United States Canada Germany and Japan Both the successes and the failures presented offer practical insights into the siting process The book includes an introductory review of the literature on facility siting and the NIMBY phenomenon as well as instructive essays on the use of voluntary processes in facilities siting This book will be of value to policymakers industry and environmental groups as well as to those working in environmental studies and engineering political science public health geography planning and business economics The Politics of Hazardous Waste Charles E. Davis, 1993 This text considers the key environmental issue of waste within the context of the development of national and local government policy The role of political decisions in the issue of hazardous waste is discussed with reference to waste policies in the United States Hazardous Waste Politics and Policy Charles E. Davis, James P. Lester, 1985

Environmental Politics and Policy in the West Zachary Alden Smith, 1993 Controlling Technocracy Gregory E. McAvoy, 1999-11-01 Disputes over hazardous waste sites usually are resolved by giving greater weight to expert opinion over public not in my back yard reactions Challenging the assumption that policy experts are better able to discern the general welfare Gregory E McAvoy here proposes that citizen opinion and democratic dissent occupy a vital constructive place in environmental policymaking McAvoy explores the issues of citizen rationality the tension between democracy and technocracy and the link between public opinion and policy in the case of an unsuccessful attempt to site a hazardous waste facility in Minnesota He shows how the site was defeated by citizens who had reasonable doubts over the need for the facility Offering a comprehensive look at the policymaking process McAvoy examines the motivations of public officials the resources they have for shaping opinion the influence of interest groups and the evolution of waste reduction programs in Minnesota and other states Integrating archival material interviews and quantitative survey data he argues that NIMBY movements can bring miscalculations to light and provide an essential check on policy experts often partisan views This book will be of value to those who work or study in the fields of hazardous waste policy facility siting environmental policy public policy public administration and political science Beyond Superfailure Daniel Mazmanian, 2019-03-04 Despite numerous small success stories the big picture of America's toxics programs is one of overall failure Superfund has failed to Clean up America's worst dump sites policies to regulate generation of new hazardous waste have foundered standards have been set for only eight of several hundred air toxics transportation spills and industrial Environment Abstracts Annual, 1990 This database encompasses all aspects of the impact of people and technology on the environment and the effectiveness of remedial policies and technologies featuring more than 950 journals published in the U S and abroad The database also covers conference papers and proceedings special reports from international agencies non governmental organizations universities associations and private corporations Other materials selectively indexed include significant monographs government studies and newsletters Greening the Globe Ann Hironaka, 2014-09-15 Recent decades have seen a rapid expansion of environmental activity in the world including the signing of a growing number of environmental treaties and the formation of international organizations like the United Nations Environment Programme UNEP Greening the Globe employs world society theory aka world polity theory or sociological institutionalism to explore the origins and consequences of international efforts to address environmental problems Existing scholarship seems paradoxical case studies frequently criticize treaties and regulatory structures as weak and ineffective yet statistical studies find improvements in environmental conditions This book addresses this paradox by articulating a bee swarm model of social change International institutions rarely command the power or resources to directly impose social change Nevertheless they have recourse via indirect mechanisms setting agendas empowering various pro environmental agents and propagating new cultural meanings and norms As a result world society generates social change even if formal institutional mechanisms and sanctions are weak Management of Hazardous Materials and Wastes Shyamal K.
