Dioscorus of Aphrodito Leslie S B Maccoull, 2012-01-01 A study of Dioscorus an official of the Egyptian city Aphrodito in Late Antiquity Many of his personal papers survived to provide an unusually in depth glimpse of an ancient person

Visions of Community in the Post-Roman World Walter Pohl, Clemens Gantner, Richard Payne, 2016-03-03 This volume looks at visions of community in a comparative perspective from Late Antiquity to the dawning of the age of crusades It addresses the question of why and how distinctive new political cultures developed after the disintegration of the Roman World and to what degree their differences had already emerged in the first post Roman centuries The Latin West Orthodox Byzantium and its Slavic periphery and the Islamic world each retained different parts of the Graeco Roman heritage while introducing new elements For instance ethnicity became a legitimizing element of rulership in the West remained a structural element of the imperial periphery in Byzantium and contributed to the inner dynamic of Islamic states without becoming a resource of political integration Similarly the political role of religion also differed between the emerging post Roman worlds It is surprising that little systematic research has been done in these fields so far The 32 contributions to the volume explore this new line of research and look at different aspects of the process with leading western Medievalists Byzantinists and Islamicists covering a wide range of pertinent topics At a closer look some of the apparent differences between the West and the Islamic world seem less distinctive and the inner variety of all post Roman societies becomes more marked At the same time new variations in the discourse of community and the practice of power emerge Anybody interested in the development of the post Roman Mediterranean but also in the relationship between the Islamic World and the West will gain new insights from these studies on the political role of ethnicity and religion in the post Roman Mediterranean

Languages and Cultures of Eastern Christianity: Greek Scott Fitzgerald Johnson, 2017-05-15 This volume brings together a set of fundamental contributions many translated into English for this publication along with an important introduction Together these explore the role of Greek among Christian communities in the late antique and Byzantine East late Roman Oriens specifically in the areas outside of the immediate sway of Constantinople and imperial Asia Minor The local identities based around indigenous eastern Christian languages Syriac Coptic Armenian Georgian etc and post Chalcedonian doctrinal confessions Miaphysite Church of the East Melkite Maronite were solidifying precisely as the Byzantine polity in the East was extinguished by the Arab conquests of the seventh century In this multilayered cultural environment Greek was a common social touchstone for all of these Christian communities not only because of the shared Greek heritage of the early Church but also because of the continued value of Greek theological hagiographical and liturgical writings However these interactions were dynamic and living so that the Greek of the medieval Near East was itself transformed by such engagement with eastern Christian literature appropriating new ideas and new texts into the Byzantine repertoire in the process

Christ in Christian tradition. Alois Grillmeier, Theresia Hainthaler, 1975 This text offers a presentation of faith in Jesus Christ as it developed between the Council of Chalcedon AD 451 and the advance of Islam in the Nile region The period begins in Alexandria leading to Ethiopia where we see an extraordinary example of a synthesis of Judaism and Christianity The book covers a variety of theological work by poets exegetes philosophers and others offering the reader a vivid picture of the state of Christian faith in the Nile and beyond before the Islamic conquest Particular attention is paid to Jewish influence in pre Islamic Arabia and to recent discoveries of literary texts and religious art Christ in Christian Tradition Aloys Grillmeier,1996-01-01 A monumental work in scope and content Aloys Grillmeier s Chirst in the Christian Tradition offers students and scholars a comprehensive exposition of Western writing on the history of doctrine Volume Two covers the Council of Chalcedon 451 to Gregory the Great 590 604 with Part Four focusing on the Church of Alexandria Language and Culture in the Growth of Imperialism Sharron Gu,2012-09-18 Political science interpretations of international relations tend to focus on abstract terms of economic interest domination rights and justice Trapped within this limited horizon the discipline fails to explain why nations of similar economic structure would have variant ideas for their foreign policies and why nations with different economic structures and ideologies could develop a similar global posture during certain periods of their histories This innovative study examines imperialism from a cultural and linguistic perspective portraying the rise and fall of ancient Greek Roman medieval Islamic modern British Russian and American empires as a part of the natural life of world civilizations As these imperial cultures matured through centuries of literary accumulation and interaction with other cultures they finally found their confidence on the world stage and transitioned from an aggressive policy towards others to a more tolerant one Christ in Christian Tradition: From the Council of Chalcedon (451) to Gregory the Great (590-604), pt. 1. Reception and contradiction. The development of the discussion about Chalcedon from 451 to the beginning of the reign of Justinian. pt. 2. The church of Constantinople in the sixth century. pt. 4. The church of Alexandria with Nubia and Ethiopia after 451 Alois Grillmeier,1975 Unending Variety ,2024-03-11 This is a Festschrift offered by friends and colleagues to papyrologist and ancient historian Peter van Minnen The volume contains the edition or re edition of 52 papyri and ostraca dating from between the third century BCE and the eighth century CE Their subjects vary from Demosthenes to the delivery of camels in early Islamic Egypt and their provenances stretch from the Eastern to the Western Desert and from the Egyptian Nile valley to Qasr Ibrim in northern Nubia All texts are published with transcription translation commentary and colour photographs In addition there are five studies reflecting the honorand s wide ranging interests Christ in Christian Tradition: From the Council of Chalcedon (451) to Gregory the Great (590-604). Pt. 1. Reception and Contradiction. Pt. 2. The church of Constantinople in the sixth century. Pt. 4 The Church of Alexandria with Nubia and Ethiopia after 451 Alois Grillmeier,1975 Byzantion Paul Graindor,Henri Grégoire,2007 Includes section Comptes rendus Acts of the Fifth International Congress of Coptic Studies: Reports on recent research Tito Orlandi,1993 Huitième congrès international d'études coptes (Paris 2004)

Anne Boud'hors, Denyse Vaillancourt, 2006 Les congrès internationaux de études coptes organisés tous les quatre ans sous l'égide de l'International Association of Coptic Studies comprennent traditionnellement une série de rapports de synthèse sur les différentes branches de la coptologie. Ces rapports permettent de mesurer les progrès accomplis depuis le précédent congrès et de indiquer des perspectives de recommander des lignes de recherche pour les années venir. Lors du congrès tenu à Paris du 28 juin au 3 juillet 2004 quinze rapports ont ainsi été présentés et sont publiés ici. C'est un nombre plus important que d'habitude car il inclut outre les domaines incontournables comme l'archéologie qui comprend aussi les recherches menées en Nubie l'histoire de l'art la littérature copte et copto-arabe la linguistique la liturgie quelques champs de étude plus spécifiques qui méritent au moins certains intervalles de temps une synthèse particulière. Ainsi en est-il de la codicologie au sens large incluant la paléographie de l'épigraphie dont les développements récents recommandaient une synthèse présentée indépendamment du rapport de papyrologie les études gnostiques et manichéennes ont été dissociées en plus de celui de l'histoire de l'art un rapport à travers l'actualité des musées et expositions en plein essor depuis plusieurs années. Si les recoupements entre les divers rapports sont inévitables puisque chaque auteur est différent les points de vue sur un même objet de étude se complètent sans se répéter. Enfin les bibliographies détaillées qui accompagnent les synthèses font de ce volume un précieux instrument de travail.

Varieties of Devotion in the Middle Ages and Renaissance Susan C. Karant-Nunn, 2003 In the modern world interest in religious devotion is as great as ever. This volume brings together the research of ten scholars into the diverse ways that Europeans expressed their quest for God over more than a millennium from the formative centuries of Christianity up to the seventeenth century. Topics include women transvestite saints Monophysite wall paintings Anglo-Saxon sainthood and painful martyrdom Carmelite self-redefinition the confident authorship of Gautier de Coinci and Matfre Ermengaud competition between the bishop and a wandering preacher for popular favour in Le Mans the contemplative philanthropies of the Poor Clares Chester Nativity cycle actors masculinity Jean Gerson's warm relations with his siblings and George Herbert's eucharistic feeling. The authors' profound familiarity with primary sources as well as the influence of current theory makes these essays vibrant and timely.

Philae and the End of Ancient Egyptian Religion Jitse H. F. Dijkstra, 2008 The famous island of Philae on Egypt's southern frontier can be considered the last major temple site where Ancient Egyptian religion was practiced. According to the Byzantine historian Procopius in 535-537 CE the Emperor Justinian ordered one of his generals to end this situation by destroying the island's temples. This account has usually been accepted as a sufficient explanation for the end of the Ancient Egyptian cults at Philae. Yet it is by no means unproblematic. This book shows that the event of 535-537 has to be seen in a larger context of religious transformation at Philae which was more complex and gradual than Procopius describes it. Not only are the various Late Antique sources from and on Philae taken into account for the first time the religious developments at Philae are also placed in a regional context by analyzing the sources from the other major towns in the region Syene Aswan and Elephantine The author situates his material into its wider historical context and does this so effectively that what begins as a very specific study of a local problem expands to consider the transitions from paganism to Christianity in Egypt as a whole and stands as one of the most important studies of this topic to date This well written and deeply learned book is a tour de force of regional religious history that will also be essential reading for anyone interested in indigenous religion and early Christianity in this time of transition Terry Wilfong in Bulletin of the American Society of Papyrologists Women of Jeme Terry G. Wilfong, 2002 Brings to life the women of Jeme a thriving Christian community in ancient Egypt The Coptic Encyclopedia Aziz Suryal Atiya, 1991 Choice, 1990
