Elleman, 1997 A study of secret agreements signed by Moscow and the Peking Government in 1924 and confirmed by a Soviet Japanese convention in 1925 which allowed the Bolsheviks to reclaim tsarist concessions in China including Outer Mongolia the Chinese Eastern Railway the Boxer Indemnity and the right of extraterritoriality

The Soviet Union and Communist China 1945-1950: The Arduous Road to the Alliance Dieter Heinzig, 2015-06-18 Drawing on a wealth of new sources this work documents the evolving relationship between Moscow and Peking in the twentieth century Using newly available Russian and Chinese archival documents memoirs written in the 1980s and 1990s and interviews with high ranking Soviet and Chinese eyewitnesses the book provides the basis for a new interpretation of this relationship and a glimpse of previously unknown events that shaped the Sino Soviet alliance An appendix contains translated Chinese and Soviet documents many of which are being published for the first time The book focuses mainly on Communist China's relationship with Moscow after the conclusion of the treaty between the Soviet Union and Kuomintang China in 1945 up until the signing of the treaty between Moscow and the Chinese Communist Party in 1950 It also looks at China's relationship with Moscow from 1920 to 1945 as well as developments from 1950 to the present The author reevaluates existing sources and literature on the topic and demonstrates that the alliance was reached despite disagreements and distrust on both sides and was not an inevitable conclusion He also shows that the relationship between the two Communist parties was based on national interest politics and not on similar ideological convictions

The Wars for Asia, 1911-1949 S. C. M. Paine, 2014-10-09 The Wars for Asia 1911 1949 shows that the Western treatment of World War II the Second Sino Japanese War and the Chinese Civil War as separate events misrepresents their overlapping connections and causes The Chinese Civil War precipitated a long regional war between China and Japan that went global in 1941 when the Chinese found themselves fighting a civil war within a regional war within an overarching global war The global war that consumed Western attentions resulted from Japan's peripheral strategy to cut foreign aid to China by attacking Pearl Harbour and Western interests throughout the Pacific in 1941 S C M Paine emphasizes the fears and ambitions of Japan China and Russia and the pivotal decisions that set them on a collision course in the 1920s and 1930s The resulting wars together yielded a viscerally anti Japanese and unified Communist China the still angry rising power of the early twenty first century

The Geopolitics of East Asia Robyn Lim, 2012-10-12 East Asia is a potential area of international conflict with a number of possible flashpoints and with the absence of strong regional organisations able to deal with conflict resolution At the same time global powers frequently get involved in the international politics of the region in order to protect their interests This book presents a comprehensive overview of the geopolitics of the region It focuses in particular on the way geographical and historical forces continue to play a key role in shaping international relations here It considers the role of both regional and international powers and assesses the risks of war in the region

Diplomacy and

Deception Bruce Elleman, 2016-09-16 During the Soviet period the USSR conducted diplomatic relations with incumbent regimes while simultaneously cultivating and manipulating communist movements in those same countries The Chinese case offers a particularly interesting example of this dual policy for when the Chinese Communists came to power in 1949 their discovery of the nature of Moscow's imperial designs on Chinese territory sowed distrust between the two revolutionary powers and paved the way to the Sino Soviet split Drawing on newly available documents from archives in China Taiwan Russia and Japan this study examines secret agreements signed by Moscow and the Peking government in 1924 and confirmed by a Soviet Japanese convention in 1925 These agreements essentially allowed the Bolsheviks to reclaim most of tsarist Russia's concessions and privileges in China including not only Imperial properties but also Outer Mongolia the Chinese Eastern Railway the Boxer Indemnity and the right of extraterritoriality Each of these topics is analyzed in this volume and translations of the secret protocols themselves are included in a documentary appendix Additional chapters discuss Sino Soviet diplomacy and the parallel history of Soviet relations with the Chinese Communist Party as well as the origins and purpose of the United Front policy

Administering the Colonizer Blaine R. Chiasson, 2011-01-01 In the 1920s Westerners viewed Harbin in North Manchuria as a world turned upside down Located in a former Chinese Eastern Railway concession with a significant Russian population the city and the Special District in which it resided were represented as places that had reversed the natural racial hierarchy a place where white was the ruled and not the ruler Administering the Colonizer explores how a non Western culture dealt with the Western minority under its administration It reveals that contrary to observations and ideological and national histories emanating from Moscow and present day Beijing republican China created policies in a number of areas that not only promoted its own sovereignty but also protected the Russian minority A historical examination of how an ethnic cultural and racial majority coexisted with a minority of a different culture and race his book also restores to history the multiple national influences that have shaped northern China and Chinese nationalism

Mending Fences Elizabeth Wishnick, 2014-07-01 Mending Fences illuminates the forces driving Moscow's China policy from the Ussuri River clashes in 1969 to the strategic partnership of the 1990s Elizabeth Wishnick analyzes the efforts of Soviet leaders simultaneously to maintain their supremacy in the international communist movement defend their borders from a perceived Chinese threat and ensure the compliance of regional authorities in enforcing China policy
