Direct Cinema Of David Albert Maysles:

The Direct Cinema of David and Albert Maysles Jonathan B. Vogels, 2010-08-20 Boldly signifying the cultural issues of the 1960s and 1970s in groundbreaking pieces such as Grey Gardens Gimme Shelter and Showman filmmakers and brothers David and Albert Maysles used an approach to documentary film that involved spontaneous observation of naturally occurring events With no rehearsed footage and no preconceived plots their revolutionary work eschewed the authoritative voice over narrator didactic scripts and the traditional problem and solution format used by the majority of their predecessors in the genre and duly influenced subsequent directors in both fiction and nonfiction film Their collaboration from 1962 until David's death in 1987 wrought thirteen major works in which the brothers critiqued the concept of celebrity with unglamorous footage of iconic figures explored how commercialism hinders communication and questioned the possibility of seeing anything clearly in a world abounding with both real and constructed images Jonathan B Vogels outlines how the Maysles brothers blended a unique amalgam of direct cinema characteristics a modern humanist aesthetic and a collaborative working process that included other directors and editors Looking at the films as both shapers and reflections of American culture he points out that the works offer insights into a wide range of contemporary topics including materialism celebrity modern art and the American family In addition to describing the changes in technology that made direct cinema possible Vogels provides careful scene by scene analyses that allow for a consideration of the Maysles brothers films as films a tactic not frequently employed in nonfiction film studies Albert and David Maysles Keith Beattie, 2010 Interviews with the brothers who created the cin may rit style of documentary filmmaking and the films Salesman Gimme Albert Maysles Joe McElhaney, 2010-10-01 Albert Maysles has created some of the most Shelter and Grev Gardens influential documentaries of the postwar period Such films as Salesman Gimme Shelter and Grey Gardens continue to generate intense debate about the ethics and aesthetics of the documentary form In this in depth study Joe McElhaney offers a novel understanding of the historical relevance of Maysles By closely focusing on Maysles's expressive use of his camera particularly in relation to the filming of the human figure this book situates Maysles s films within not only documentary film history but film history in general arguing for their broad ranging importance to both narrative film and documentary cinema Complete with an engaging interview with Maysles and a detailed comparison of the variant releases of his documentary on the Beatles What's Happening The Beatles in the U.S. A and The Beatles The First U.S. Visit this work is a pivotal study of a significant filmmaker 1968 and Global Cinema Christina Gerhardt, Sara Saljoughi, 2018-10-17 The volume is ideal for graduate and undergraduate courses on the long sixties political cinema 1968 and new waves in art history cultural studies and film and media studies Soul of the Documentary Ilona Hongisto, 2025-10-01 Soul of the Documentary offers a groundbreaking new approach to documentary cinema Ilona Hongisto stirs current thinking by suggesting that the work of documentary films is not reducible to representing what already exists By close reading a diverse body of films from The Last

Bolshevik to Grey Gardens Hongisto shows how documentary cinema intervenes in the real by framing it and creatively contributes to its perpetual unfolding The emphasis on framing brings new urgency to the documentary tradition and its objectives and provokes significant novel possibilities for thinking about the documentary s ethical and political potentials in Fifty Filmmakers Andrew J. Rausch, 2015-03-21 This book is an extensive collection of original the contemporary world interviews with 50 noted filmmakers Conducted over a seven year period expressly for this project the interviews cover various aspects of film production biographical information and the interviewees favorite or most influential films Filmmakers interviewed include highly respected auteurs Richard Linklater Wim Wenders B movie greats Roger Corman Lloyd Kaufman and well renowned documentary directors D A Pennebaker Albert Maysles Each entry includes a brief biography and filmography while dozens of personal photographs promotional materials and film stills appear throughout the work The Sixties Paul Monaco, 2003-06 This book covers the 1960 s as part of the definitive history of American cinema from its emergence in the 1800s to the present day Direct Cinema Dave Saunders, 2007 Direct Cinema is the first comprehensive study of the direct cinema movement of 1960s America Through the inquisitiveness of filmmakers such as Robert Drew D A Pennebaker and Frederick Wiseman and predicated on innovations such as portable cameras and synchronized sound direct cinema intimately documented presidential campaigns through the revelers of Woodstock and the dispossessed subjects of Wiseman's reality fictions. This volume recovers these vastly influential yet politically underappreciated films suggesting they represented a resurgence of America's home grown philosophical tradition inextricably bound up in the artistic and political impulses of the 1960s The Concise Routledge Encyclopedia of the Documentary Film Ian Aitken, 2013 This reference work explores the history of the documentary film It discusses individual films and filmmakers examines national and regional filmmaking traditions elaborates on production companies organizations festivals and institutions explores themes issues and representations and describes various styles techniques and technical issues The International Dictionary of Films and Filmmakers: Directors James Vinson, 1984

International Dictionary of Films and Filmmakers Tom Pendergast, Sara Pendergast, 2000 Contains over two thousand entries arranged alphabetically within four volumes that provide information about significant films actors and actresses directors and writers and production artists in North American British and West European cinematic history Includes photographs and indexes How to Read a Film James Monaco, 1981 Now thoroughly revised and updated the book discusses recent breakthroughs in media technology including such exciting advances as video discs and cassettes two way television satellites cable and much more Guide to American Cinema, 1965-1995 Daniel Curran, 1998-05-26 This is not an attempt to list the greatest films of the period nor the greatest actors and directors but an attempt to give a representation of the times Introduction p xii Living Cinema; New Directions in Contemporary Film-making Louis Marcorelles, 1973 The Beatles on Film Roland Reiter, 2008 This book provides the production history and a contextual interpretation of The Beatles movies A Hard Day's Night Help Yellow Submarine Let It Be and describes their ability to project the group's image at different stages in their career It also includes a discussion of all of The Beatles promotional films and videos as well as their television cartoon series and the self produced television special Magical Mystery Tour Along with The Beatles feature movies and promos this analysis also contains documentaries such as The Compleat Beatles and Anthology as well as dramatizations of the band's history such as Backbeat The Hours and Times and Two of Us Brothers, 1969 Writer editor Jack Kroll interviews filmmakers Albert and David Maysles in 1969 about what they called at that time a new technique of natural movie making Direct Cinema Documentary Erik Barnouw, 1983 Now brought completely up to date the new edition of this classic work on documentary films and filmmaking surveys the history of the genre from 1895 to the present day With the myriad social upheavals over the past decade documentaries have enjoyed an international renaissance hereBarnouw considers the medium in the light of an entirely new political and social climate He examines as well the latest filmmaking technology and the effects that video cassettes and cable television are having on the production of documentaries And like the previous editions Documentary is filled with photographs many of them rare collected during the author's travels around the world Covering the full course of the documentary from Louis Lumiere's first effort to recent landmark productions such as Shoah this book makes the growing importance of a unique blend of art and realityaccessible and understandable to all film lovers Women Directors and Their Films Mary G. Hurd, 2007 Although women may have found greater film success in the areas of screenwriting editing design and producing there have been many women whose contributions as directors have been guite significant In this guide to their careers and films author Mary Hurd profiles the most noteworthy from Barbara Kopple and her classic work in the documentary form to Nora Ephron s insightful retellings of Hollywood s classic stories to Sophia Coppola's current success in Hollywood Women Directors and Their Films fills an important gap in the literature on the subject offering a combination of biographical material and film analysis that effectively summarizes and encapsulates the life s work of these very different very talented women The selection includes women of the studio age Ida Lupino Dorothy Arzner contemporary mainstream directors Amy Heckerling Nora Ephron independents Mary Harron Nancy Savoca documentarians Barbara Kopple experimental filmmakers Maya Deren and an assortment of acclaimed international filmmakers Jane Campion Agnes Varda Profiles of the directors contain both biographical and critical segments The first biographical section provides a basic outline of the subject s life and career the second offers a discussion of the director's films featuring comments on the narrative themes visual techniques and style and possible critical approaches to the work Each chapter also includes a complete filmography and brief bibliography History of Film Virginia Wright Wexman, 2006 Substantially revised for this edition A History of Film is a comprehensive international survey of film from its beginnings to the present This text highlights the contributions of major film producing countries significant filmmakers and their films within social artistic economic and technological contexts This Sixth Edition incorporates major revisions designed to improve the book s focus and provide more balanced coverage New to the Sixth Edition Includes new chapters on Indian and Chinese cinemas emphasizing the exploding film industry in these two countries Adds a chapter on The Digital Future in American film bringing the text up to date with latest technological and industrial developments Discusses more women filmmakers throughout the text and adds a section on Asian American filmmakers expanding the diversity and inclusiveness of the text Replaces many illustrations with new examples most of them frame enlargements and specifically keys all illustrations to discussions in the text ensuring that the images will be valuable learning tools for students Adds more extended analyses of individual films helping students grasp large historical questions by presenting them within specific cases rather than in abstract generalities Provides a new glossary helping students understand the technical foreign language and industry terms used in the text Praise for A History of Film The reason why I selected A History of Film over all of the other textbooks has to do with the basic approach of the subject of film as a developing art form while paying careful attention to film genres and history the organizational structure of the chapters a clear and authoritative writing style that explains the interconnectivity of film as a global phenomenon and the use of judiciously selected stills in support of the text The structure organization and content of A History of Film is so good that it is to me still the standard by which all other film textbooks must be measured Stephen Ambra New Hampshire Technical Institute The text concisely covers all of film history and its size makes it particularly useful for film history courses taught in a single term It is typically quite insightful yet not too dense for motivated introductory students Mark Gallagher University of Missouri International Documentary ,2005
