Self-Studies of Teacher Education Practice Online Mary F. Rice, Ramona Maile Cutri, Juanjo Mena, 2024-05-20 This edited volume explores the emotional work of being an online teacher educator. The chapter authors discuss the intense work involved in planning teaching and navigating intuitional contexts in order to build a relationship between online teaching and the Self Study of Teacher Educator Practice S STEP methodology. Additionally, the authors of the chapters in the book used the S STEP methodology to move their practices and their teacher educator identities beyond emergency crisis uses of online teaching common during campus building closures. Each chapter offers different ways that S STEP methodology can be used to sustain oneself as an online teacher educator. Although there are specific strategies and practices, this is not a how to book for online teacher educating; it is an exploration of online teachers and groups of online teachers supporting themselves and each other by studying and learning from their practices.

Online TV Catherine Johnson, 2019-01-04 With growth in access to high speed broadband and 4G and increased ownership of smartphones, tablets, and internet connected television, sets the internet has simultaneously begun to compete with and transform television. Online TV argues that these changes create the conditions for an emergent internet era that challenges the language and concepts that we have to talk about television as a medium. In a wide ranging analysis, Catherine Johnson sets out a series of conceptual frameworks designed to provide a clearer language with which to analyse the changes to television in the internet era and to bring into focus the power dynamics of the online TV industry. From providing definitions of online TV and the online TV industry to examining the ways in which technology rights interfaces and algorithms are used to control and constrain access to audiovisual content, Online TV is a timely intervention into debates about contemporary internet and television cultures. A must read for any students, scholars, and practitioners who want to understand and analyse the ways in which television is intertwining with and being transformed by the internet.

Shifting to Online Learning Through Faculty Collaborative Support Crawford, Caroline M., 2021-06-18 As a result of the COVID 19 pandemic, most schools had to suddenly shift from traditional face to face courses to blended, synchronous and asynchronous instructional environments. The impact upon the immediacy of remote learning was overwhelming to many faculty, instructional facilitators, teachers, and trainers. Many faculty and trainers have experience with the analysis, design, development, implementation, and evaluation of online and blended learning environments, while many faculty and trainers also do not have this knowledge nor experience. As such, the collegial workspace has developed into a collaborative work environment wherein the faculty are helping faculty, partially because the instructional designer staff and learning advisors are overwhelmed with the number of course projects that must be moved from traditional face to face course environments into an online environment within a short period of time. The faculty are helping each other make this move, offering course design and development support and also instructional tips and tricks that will support successful blended and online experiences that enhance learning outcomes.
