Digital Project Practice for New Work and Industry 4.0 Tobias Endress, 2023-03-01 New Work and Industry 4 0 have matured and this book takes a practical experience based approach to project management in these areas It introduces methods and covers the practical aspects It critically examines existing approaches and practices and shows their limitations The book covers appropriate methods as well as human and social aspects It contributes to the ongoing discussion of business practices and methods It also aims to stimulate dialogue in the professional community Digital Project Practice for New Work and Industry 4 0 begins by introducing basic concepts in the context of Industry 4 0 and discussing how they might influence organizational communication and impact the work environment After examining the possibilities and challenges of remote work and collaboration in distributed teams all over the world the book looks at a company s fundamental changes related to New Work from a practical business perspective as well as legal and ethical perspectives It reviews the case of the VW emission scandal and recommends ways to improve corporate culture Legal issues include New

Work and hybrid forms of collaboration as well as liability for automated decisions i.e. the potential need for an electronic person. Other implications for the workplace include how Industry 4.0 might influence the potential demand for Digital Unions. Industry 4.0 and lean production and their applications can change industrial practices. Open Banking presents new approaches and new business models. Work structures and systems can empower employees' work self-management. This book also looks at how New Work affects individual workers. It addresses digital stress, introduces strategies for coping with it, and discusses related topics. It also explores the benefits of meditation and the economics of mind, body, and spirit. In essence, this book covers appropriate methods along with human and social factors. It also covers practice, different perspectives, and various experiences from all around the globe. Contributing to the ongoing discussion on business practices and methods, this book will nourish and stimulate dialogue in the professional community.

Intergenerational Relations - Contemporary Theories, Studies and Policies Andrzej Klimczuk, 2024-05-22. Intergenerational Relations: Contemporary Theories, Studies and Policies concentrates on actual discussions around various aspects of interactions that occur between people from different age groups and generations. The authors present studies related to four sets of challenges crucial for relationships between children, young adults, middle-aged adults, and older adults. These challenges include social and cultural challenges, economic and technological challenges, environmental challenges, and political and legal challenges. The volume also addresses issues important for the global, national, regional, and local application and performance of intergenerational solutions, projects, and programs focused on achieving the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The collection includes chapters encompassing research and practical recommendations from various disciplines such as demography, economics, ethics, management, gerontology, public health, pedagogy, social work, political science, and sociology. This book is an asset to academic and professional communities interested in theories of intergenerational relationships as well as public services and age-related policies. Moreover, the volume is a useful resource to help students, practitioners, and people working in government, business, and nonprofit organizations build positive and harmonious interactions between generations.

Product Management in Practice Matt LeMay, 2022-05-16. Product management has become a critical function for modern organizations, from small startups to corporate enterprises. And yet the day-to-day work of product management remains largely misunderstood. In theory, product managers are high-flying visionaries who build products that people love. In practice, they're hard-working facilitators who bring clarity and focus to their teams. In this thoroughly revised and expanded edition, Matt LeMay provides real-world guidance for current and aspiring product managers. Updated for the era of remote and hybrid work, this book provides actionable answers to product management's most persistent and confounding questions, starting with "What exactly am I supposed to do all day?" With this book, you'll learn what the day-to-day work of product management entails and how to excel at it. Why no job title or description will resolve the ambiguity of your role. How to bridge the false dichotomy between strategy and execution. Why the temptation to focus on decks and

Wilber, 2010 The power of Dana Wilber's insight is in its simplicity Students are texting networking and blogging i.e. writing and reading all the time everywhere just maybe in places we aren't necessarily paying attention to Build on their authentic interest and motivation using the technologies they are already committed to and you've won half the battle. You won't believe how engaged they are; they won't believe they're learning for school. In iWrite Dana shows you how to guide students through the complexity of new literacies including how to discern between media, how to account for audience and voice, how to choose appropriate genre, and how to harness what they already know to be more successful in school. Dana deftly elucidates the lives of Millennials, those students growing up around the turn of the 21st century and the technologies embedded into their everyday reading and writing. She shows us how three accessible tools: wikis, blogs, and digital storytelling can be used to scaffold learning for our students. And she demonstrates how they can help us address 10 key issues in the literacies of today's students: safety, authenticity, practice, relevance, meaning, and identity; interest and inquiry; cognitive development; community; process; motivation. Let iWrite show you how to capture students' daily literacy practices and develop them for the kind of writing we want them to learn.
