Textbook of Pharmacology-II (As per PCI regulations and for medical students) Prof. Prasad Neerati, 2024-11-04

Pharmacology is the study of how drugs interact with biological systems playing a pivotal role in understanding disease mechanisms and treatment. The content is designed to guide students, healthcare professionals, and researchers through more complex therapeutic classes, drug interactions, and the evolving landscape of pharmacological research. In this book, we explore the pharmacodynamics and pharmacokinetics of various drug classes as well as their clinical applications and adverse effects. Additionally, we address recent advances in molecular pharmacology, including personalized medicine and the role of biotechnology in drug development. By integrating case studies and real-world examples, we aim to enhance practical understanding and foster critical thinking in applying pharmacological principles to clinical practice. We would like to express our gratitude to the contributors, researchers, and healthcare professionals whose insights and efforts have enriched the content of this volume. This edition also reflects feedback from students and educators, ensuring that the material remains both relevant and accessible. We hope that Pharmacology II serves as a comprehensive resource for mastering advanced pharmacological concepts and equips readers with the knowledge and skills necessary to excel in the dynamic and ever-changing field of pharmacology.

Global Education of Health Management

William Edson Aaronson, Connie J. Evashwick, 2019-06-12. The purpose of this special issue is to provide insights about how healthcare executives and managers are educated around the world. As globalization becomes the standard for all industries, healthcare executives must be able to manage effectively with populations, financial arrangements, and technologies that cross geographic boundaries. Education of upcoming students and continuing education of working executives must be broad and encompass a global perspective. Students are increasingly eager to study abroad; our educational programs must include opportunities for students to study in other countries and to have the information in advance that is necessary to make the experience meaningful. Throughout the world, health systems are grappling with the need to deliver high-value healthcare and high-quality services despite rapidly increasing costs. The need for effective management to achieve these ends is well documented. However, healthcare management education is nascent or non-existent in many countries, especially low and middle-income countries that could benefit most from educating healthcare managers in the art and science of management and leadership. This special issue strives to provide insights that might guide universities in developing healthcare management programs in their respective countries.
