Notably literary movements aren't just replicated; they blend with local traditions in a process of creolization that challenges traditional notions of literary influence. The book highlights the agency of writers and readers in shaping the global literary landscape. The approach involves case studies of movements like Romanticism, Modernism, and Postcolonial literature, analyzing their origins, characteristics, and transformations in various cultural contexts. It acknowledges the roles of colonialism, globalization, and evolving communication technologies in facilitating or hindering the circulation of ideas. The book progresses by first introducing core concepts and then delving into specific examples, culminating in a theoretical framework for understanding global literary exchange.
