Artificial Intelligence for Education Mario Allegra, Manuel Gentile, Giuseppe Città, Frank Dignum, Iza Marfisi-Schottman, 2023-11-27. What learning, teaching and education will be in the next future is an open question. Nevertheless, believing that an increasing prevalence of AI may not influence the education field seems objectively unlikely. In recent years, the new renaissance of AI has stimulated discussion on how advances in AI can influence the educational sector and the future educational policies and the impact of AI on Technology Enhanced Learning (TEL). On the other side, the attention of the education sector in artificial intelligence is complemented by the consideration that since the early days of AI, researchers have shown for the education sector which has often seen education as one of the preferred application areas. The interaction between the AI and TEL research fields led to the investigation of how the advance in AI could support the development of flexible, inclusive, personalized, engaging and effective learning tools. Besides research in this area could be a powerful tool to open the learning black box by providing a deeper understanding of how learning occurs. The proposed Research Topic aims to gather contributions that provide a comprehensive picture of how AI is changing educational practices and how the key stakeholders in the educational community, i.e. students, teachers, faculty and families, perceive this ongoing change. Relevant topics include but are not limited to AI applications in real world educational settings: Intelligent Tutoring Systems, Adaptive learning environments, Learning design and AI, Students profiling, definition of the student model and ethical implications, Intelligent techniques for objective and integrated students evaluation in TEL, Teachers' competencies for effective integration of AI into Education, Teachers' perceptions of AI, prejudices and attitudes, The role of cognitive architectures in Education, Serious games and AI, Social robotics in Education.

Critiquing Generative AI in Africa's Media Ecosystems Lungile A. Tshuma, Trust Matsilele, 2025-11-17. This book takes a critical approach to the rise of Artificial Intelligence (AI) within the media and communication landscape. The book argues that as technology is a social construct reflecting existing power dynamics, those in the Global South and in Africa, in particular, are bound to be marginalised and have their knowledge systems overlooked as the Global North dominates technological developments. The birth of AI has ignited debates about its benefits to lower income countries, with some highlighting its potential to advance businesses and grow economies. However, this book argues that AI tools have been produced to serve Western needs and that instead there is a need for countries in Africa to have home grown solutions defined by local values Drawing on case studies and analysis from across the continent the book seeks to caution challenge and proffer solutions to the use and understanding of Generative AI for media and communication in non western societies At a time when generative AI is threatening to shape the future of media and communication around the world this book is a vital and timely contribution to debates within critical data studies and African media studies     Simple Scientific Experiments, Entertaining and
