Fathering in India Rajalakshmi Sriram, 2018-12-30 This book covers the underexplored subject of fathering in India It delves into the shared aspirations of men in India to nurture their children in sensitively attuned ways within the culturally prescriptive context that governs men s roles as providers and caregivers This work is based on over two decades of intensive research in India on how different groups construct and experience fatherhood and fathering under changing circumstances It unmask the heterogeneity that exists within fathering in India through conversations with fathers across diverse contexts in privileged economic situations and those in difficult home and family circumstances having children with disability single parent fathers and fathers in the military A separate section discusses fathering daughters and shared parenting Images and role models in fathering are brought alive through analysis of Hindi films the media children s literature and classical literature The conceptual analysis moves beyond the power and control dimensions commonly used to describe Indian men and fathers to highlight their resilience adaptability positive involvement and developmental trajectories This volume is for scholars researchers and practitioners in developmental psychology human development and family science sociology early childhood education and psychiatry pediatrics community medicine and allied fields

Cold War Workers Isabel Campbell, 2025-04-15 When Canada sought to protect its borders and aid its allies during the Cold War many people were recruited to build the emerging security state as construction and maintenance workers engineers members of the armed forces medical researchers and research subjects Security work transformed the lives of individuals families and communities in ways that were both predictable and surprising and both beneficial and harmful the militarization and colonization of Indigenous lives and lands was especially disruptive The opening essays of Cold War Workers intimately portray the complicated effects of Cold War labour upon Indigenous lives Elmer Sinclair a residential school survivor and member of the Canadian Armed Forces achieved equality with white men through his militarized masculinity His more positive professional experience contrasts with those of Indigenous workers on northern radar lines many of whom lost languages connections to the land and other elements of traditional cultures as they sought new skills and better employment Diverse Indigenous experiences of Cold War security work set the scene for the second set of essays which explore the impact of security preoccupations on marginalized groups the study of extreme isolation through scientific experimentation on human subjects the targeting of gay men with psychiatric labelling to enforce an idealized masculinity and the restriction of gender mobility in the Canadian military and the pushback from servicewomen Cold War Workers raises questions about the influence of settler colonial masculine institutional values on those who laboured for the Cold War state and society By comparing the experiences of different types of workers families and communities this volume reveals how race gender and privilege affected people in varied and sometimes unexpected ways Task Force Report: Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime United States.

Task Force on Juvenile Delinquency, 1967 A socio economic analysis of juvenile delinquency that is critical of society's approach to juvenile crime responds with recommendations and principles for change Efforts to modernize the juvenile court system and the general attitude of the public sector toward youth crime are discussed To teach the youthful offenders involvement in community life the public and private sectors of the population must respond to youthful needs Emphasis is placed on the following areas for changes in attitude and approach of responsible individuals public officials community and social agencies teachers and potential employers Greatest emphasis is placed on juvenile justice system personnel ranging from the police to the judge The Gault decision is discussed as a viable vehicle for giving perspective to future programs and priorities That a revitalized juvenile court system is needed is a logical conclusion News Bulletin Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.
