Rules for Resistance

David Cole, Melanie Wachtell Stinnett, 2017-05-23 Some of us have been here before Many people living today in America and around the world have direct experience with countries where an autocrat has seized control Others have seen charismatic populist leaders come to power within democracies and dramatically change the rules of the road for the public activists and journalists alike In Rules for Resistance writers from Russia Turkey India Hungary Chile China Canada Italy and elsewhere tell Americans what to expect under our own new regime and give us guidance for living and for resisting in the Trump era Advice includes being on the watch for the prosecution of political opponents the use of libel laws to attack critics the gutting of non partisan institutions and the selective application of the law A special section on the challenges for journalists reporting on and under a leader like Donald Trump addresses issues of free speech the importance of press protections and the critical role of investigative journalists in an increasingly closed society An introduction by ACLU legal director David Cole looks at the crucial role institutions have in preserving democracy and resisting autocracy A chilling but necessary collection Rules for Resistance distills the collective knowledge and wisdom of those who have seen this video before

The Economist ,1843 Tunisian Women's Writing in French Sonia Alba, 2018-11-21 Tunisian women s literary production in French published or set between the years 1987 and 2011 from Tunisia s second president Zine El Abidine Ben Ali s rise to power to the eve of the Tunisian Revolution reveals the role of women their political engagement and their resistance to patriarchal oppression A great deal of media and scholarly attention has focused on the role of women during the Tunisian Revolution itself yet few studies have considered women s literary and active engagement prior to the uprising By contrast this book focuses specifically on the time period leading to the Revolution The book is structured around three chapters each focusing on a different form of writing and on a number of contemporary Tunisian writers who have chosen to express themselves in French Sonia Alba explores the complex ways in which the authors have attempted to deal with those issues cultural social and political most relevant to them This is the first study of Tunisian women s writing in French to compare and contrast key themes in three different genres within a single study and within the conceptual framework of subaltern counterpublics The work is enhanced by the inclusion of extracts from previously unpublished authors interviews Tunisian

Death Makes the News Jessica M Fishman, 2017-11-21 Winner of the 2018 Media Ecology Association's Erving Goffman Award for Outstanding Scholarship in the Ecology of Social Interaction Winner of the Eastern Communication Association's Everett Lee Hunt Award A behind the scenes account of how death is presented in the media Death is considered one of the most newsworthy events but words do not tell the whole story Pictures are also at the epicenter of journalism and when photographers and editors illustrate fatalities it often raises questions about how they distinguish between a fit and unfit image of death Death Makes the News is the story of this controversial news practice picturing the dead Jessica Fishman uncovers the surprising editorial and political forces that structure how the news and media cover death The patterns are striking overturning long held assumptions about which deaths are newsworthy and raising fundamental questions about the role that news images play in our society In a look behind the curtain of newsrooms Fishman observes editors and photojournalists from different types of organizations as they deliberate over which images of death make the cut and why She also investigates over 30 years of photojournalism in the tabloid and patrician press to establish when the dead are shown and whose dead body is most newsworthy illustrating her findings with high profile news events including recent plane crashes earthquakes hurricanes homicides political unrest and war time attacks Death Makes the News reveals that much of what we think we know about the news is wrong while the patrician press claims that they do not show dead bodies they are actually more likely than the tabloid press to show them even though the tabloids actually claim to have no qualms showing these bodies Dead foreigners are more likely to be shown than American bodies At the same time there are other unexpected but vivid patterns that offer insight into persistent editorial forces that routinely structure news coverage of death An original view on the depiction of dead bodies in the media Death Makes the News opens up new ways of thinking about how death is portrayed Comics and Catharsis Jordan Tronsgard, 2025-08-21 Contributions by Kelly Baron Angie Chau Jennifer Nagtegaal Lee Okan Diana Pifano Russell Samolsky Kay Sohini Jordan Tronsgard Anastasia Ulanowicz and Aanchal Vij Comics and Catharsis Exploring Graphic Narratives of Trauma and Healing explores the idea that trauma and healing hold an imbalance in many forms of literature especially in the world of comics Whether it be war based national physical or sexual trauma this volume looks at a wide variety of trauma and the psychological pain and devastation that arise during and crucially for the question of trauma narratives following the events as the psychological and often physical wounds are processed Essayists in the collection engage with questions of how comics process trauma through depictions and receptions Viewing trauma through the lens of comics such as Maus Persepolis and Fun Home as well as works by comics writers who are little known or unknown outside their communities contributors analyze how trauma is used in
