Covid 19 changed the lives of millions of people around the world. The effects of the global pandemic on the physical and psychological health of individuals as well as on their behavioral habits, relationships, and the way they communicate do not seem to be only short or medium term but on the contrary appear to be long lasting. In the same way that it is possible to use the term long covid to refer to the long term effects on the physical health of individuals who have contracted the virus, so we think it is possible to use the expression psychological long covid to indicate the long term effects on the psychological health of individuals not only of those who have been infected but more generally of all those who have had to cope with social restrictions, lockdowns, distancing, remote work, and learning etc imposed by the pandemic. At the same time, many people demonstrated resilience as the capacity to cope with adverse events through positive adaptation.

Preparing for Leadership Donna J. Dennis, Deborah Dennis Meola, 2009. What makes a great leader? Confidence, Trust, Vision. The ability to inspire. The answer is complex yet understandable. The good news is that most great leaders are made, not born, and many of the characteristics associated with effective leadership can be assessed, trained, and developed. Based on the best-selling seminar by the American Management Association, this book gives readers practical advice on how they can get noticed by learning how to look and talk like a leader, become expert teambuilders, coaches, and communicators, gain and use power and influence positively, guard against the pitfalls of intraorganizational politics, identify and build strategic alliances, elicit support, motivate others. Containing practical tools including assessments, tips, and checklists, this book shows readers how to take their organizations into the future, inspire those around them, and achieve beyond what is expected.

Strategies for Mars Carol R. Stoker, Carter Emmart, 1996. Twenty-six essays written by workers in the space industry and interested lay people make a case for exploring Mars, arguing for the scientific objectives that could be achieved in the Martian frontier and even providing a cost and benefit analysis. The discussions suggest specific strategies in getting there, flight profiles, and rocket designs utilizing nuclear electric propulsion. However, the questions remain: what happens when we arrive? In response, the authors speculate on life support, biomedical issues, transportation, and living spaces based on Biosphere 2 results. Lacks an index.
