Duncan,Ichiro

Kawachi,Stephen S. Morse,2024 The COVID 19 pandemic has worsened health disparities worldwide Across all nations the burden of COVID 19 has fallen most heavily on the socially disadvantaged In the United States the COVID 19 mortality rate for Black Americans is over twice that of their White American counterparts and people in prisons have more than double the COVID 19 mortality rate of the general U S population Other social dimensions such as income gender sexuality and immigration status have also played a significant role in COVID 19 infection hospitalization and mortality The Social Epidemiology of the COVID 19 Pandemic provides an interdisciplinary analysis of the pandemic s effect across populations and its disproportionate impact on vulnerable groups in society including racial ethnic minority immigrant and incarcerated populations Written by leading international scholars this essential volume describes how the COVID 19 pandemic intersects with nearly every social determinant of health from race and ethnicity to income inequality and how such interactions compound existing structural disadvantages Using examples from upper middle and high income countries such as the United States contributing experts delve into the differential impacts of COVID 19 by major social determinants of health and reveal the resultant effect of pandemic related policy on health outcomes Together these authors underline the urgent need for further integration of social epidemiology into public health decision making to ensure that every population receives the care it requires Drawing from research across epidemiology sociology psychology and public policy The Social Epidemiology of the COVID 19 Pandemic illuminates the stark disparities exacerbated by the COVID 19 pandemic and the valuable insights from social epidemiology that can inform a more equitable pandemic response Economic Uncertainty in the

Post-Pandemic Era Shilpa Deo,Fatma Feyza Gündüz,2024-12-05 The global economy has experienced many challenges in recent times particularly in the shadow of the COVID 19 pandemic such as dwindling demand supply chain disruptions declining growth rates further pandemic waves and increasing poverty and inequality to name but a few Four years after the pandemic economies are still struggling to achieve sustainable economic growth and development While much has been written about the impact of COVID 19 on various sectors and economies this is the first book to underscore the post COVID global uncertainties that are still occurring on the world stage and further to present the recent challenges such as geo political tensions war economic disturbances climate change the energy crisis in Europe recession in developed economies and its effect on developing and least developed economies The book starts by setting the grounds for further discussion of the present challenges as well as future implications In addition to examining the immediate issues which occurred with the onset of the pandemic it explores these from the perspective of developed developing and least developed countries The wide ranging topics covered by the book include the ongoing Russia Ukraine War China s increasing economic dominance in neighbouring countries the economic collapse of Sri Lanka and Pakistan the factors that led to the technology layoffs and the future of global employees and economies The book goes beyond looking at sector specific factors and broadly outlines country specific instabilities policy choices and the way forward The book will be of interest to students of macroeconomics development and international economics and international relations as well as researchers and policymakers Business
