intelligence and the way it's changing the world of work. From using natural language processing to ensure job adverts are free from bias and gendered language to implementing chatbots to enhance the employee experience, AI has created a variety of opportunities for the HR function. Artificial Intelligence for HR empowers HR professionals to leverage this potential and use AI to improve efficiency and develop a talented and productive workforce. Outlining the current technology landscape as well as the latest AI developments, this book ensures that HR professionals fully understand what AI is and what it means for HR in practice. Covering everything from recruitment and retention to employee engagement and learning and development, Artificial Intelligence for HR outlines the value AI can add to HR. It also features discussions on the challenges that can arise from AI and how to deal with them, including data privacy, algorithmic bias, and how to develop the skills of a workforce with the rise of automation, robotics, and machine learning in order to make it more human, not less. Packed with practical advice, research, and case studies from global organizations including Uber, IBM, and Unilever, this book will equip HR professionals with the knowledge they need to leverage AI to recruit and develop a successful workforce and help their businesses thrive in the future.

AI Chatbots in Customer Service Evgeny Kagan, Maqbool Dada, Brett Hathaway, 2022. Despite recent advances in language processing algorithms, chatbot technology continues to face adoption hurdles. We survey chatbot users about their experiences and use their testimonies to construct a decision model of customer choice between the chatbot service channel and the live agent service channel. The fundamentals of this choice are the time spent in line and in service, the chatbot's success rate, and the qualitative differences in the service experience provided by the chatbot and by the live agent. We then conduct experiments in which participants choose and then experience the chatbot or the live agent channel as we vary operational i.e. times spent and chatbot success rates and qualitative features of the chatbot. We find that users respond positively to improvements in chatbot operational performance; however, the chatbot channel remains underutilized relative to what expected time minimization would predict. Additional experiments show that this underutilization is caused by two separate mechanisms: algorithm aversion (aversion to an algorithmic service provider) and gatekeeper aversion (aversion to any service format that may involve multiple stages). Examining potential remedies, we find that algorithm aversion can be mitigated by making salient the expected time savings offered by the chatbot. However, gatekeeper aversion is more persistent and harder to overcome. We conclude by building and estimating a structural model of channel demand and by proposing a behavior-aware service design that reduces the firm's staffing costs by up to 22%.

Smart Bots, Happy Customers Gosia Szaniawska-Schiavo, 2024-08-26. Did you know that AI can automate up to 58% of customer service interactions? Our study on chatbot statistics also confirmed that almost 1.5 million people had at least one conversation with a chatbot within the past year. Well, AI revolutionized how businesses help their clients. It enabled 24/7 support through chatbots, and virtual assistants increased efficiency and allowed human agents to focus on more complex issues. There is just one issue: Not every chatbot is AI. Simultaneously, not all AI-powered solutions will be perfect for all tasks related to customer
