Banking on (Artificial) Intelligence Theodora Lau, 2025-02-12 There is no lack of hype around artificial intelligence We have only begun to scratch the surface of what this powerful technology can do While tech and financial services become more intertwined cutting through the noise has become more difficult but also more crucial As a technology AI is essential to advancing innovation to creating efficiencies and enhancing productivity while capturing opportunities by both incumbent financial institutions as well as fintechs But it also comes with risks and potential for biases and disinformation that can deepen inequalities and erode trust in our society Responsible innovation must become part of our DNA and not as an afterthought This book provides a tailored overview of what AI specifically means for financial services a highly regulated yet also disrupted industry It investigates the current state of AI applications in financial services today along with the state of funding and partnerships between tech and banking industries It also examines the key pillars of responsible AI and the importance of keeping humans in the loop The book takes a deep dive into the use cases in the financial services industry the challenges and opportunities and the fragmented regulatory landscape How can we effectively assess risks and balance innovation and customer centricity with trust in AI in financial services Can smaller organizations reap the benefits of the technology How can institutions deploy AI responsibly and securely and promote a fairer and more equitable future for more people While data is about bits and bytes the realities of AI is very much human This book will help spark dialogue and collaboration as we journey into the future Globalisation, Human Rights and Education Joseph Zajda, Yvonne

Vissing, 2025-02-28 This book analyses major discourses of human rights and education It examines critically major issues confronting human rights and education both locally and globally The various chapters analyze the challenges that different societies are faced with as they attempt to implement protect and defend democracy cultural diversity and human rights in schools The book helps readers to explore their own views and consider more broadly what may be in the best interests of a fair and just society as envisioned in human rights treaties human rights education in schools and cultural diversity

Bringing the Neuroscience of Learning to Online Teaching Tracey Tokuhama-Espinosa, 2021 This practical resource draws on the best of neuroscience to inform decision making about digital learning We live in unprecedented times that have pushed schools to make many decisions that have been postponed for years For the first time since the inception of public education teachers have been invited to redesign the learning landscape by integrating an intelligent selection of digital educational resources and changing pedagogical approaches based on information from the learning sciences This handbook will help teachers make the most of this opportunity by showing them how to use digital tools to differentiate learning employ alternative options to standardized testing personalize learning prioritize social emotional skills and inspire students to think more critically The author identifies some gems in quality teaching that are amplified in online contexts including 40 evidence informed pedagogies from the learning sciences This book will help all educators move online teaching and learning to new levels of confidence and success Book Features Provides quick references to key planning tools like decision trees graphics app recommendations and step by step directions to help teachers create their own online learning courses Guides teachers through a 12 step model for instructional design that meets both national and international standards Shows educators how to use an all new Digital Resource Taxonomy to select resources and how to research and keep them up to date Explains why good instructional design and educational technology are complementary with best practices in learning sciences like Mind Brain and Education Science Shares ways teachers can leverage technology to create more time for the personalized aspects of learning Shows educators how to design online courses with tools that let all students begin at their own starting points and how to differentiate homework Offers evidence informed pedagogies to make online intimate and authentic for students

The New Routledge Companion to Science Fiction Mark Bould, Andrew M. Butler, Sherryl Vint, 2024-06-13 The New Routledge Companion to Science Fiction provides an overview of the study of science fiction across multiple academic fields It offers a new conceptualisation of the field today marking the significant changes that have taken place in sf studies over the past 15 years Building on the pioneering research in the first edition the collection reorganises historical coverage of the genre to emphasise new geographical areas of cultural production and the growing importance of media beyond print It also updates and expands the range of frameworks that are relevant to the study of science fiction The periodisation has been reframed to include new chapters focusing on science fiction produced outside the Anglophone context including South Asian Latin American Chinese and African diasporic science fiction The contributors use both well established critical and theoretical approaches and embrace a range of new ones including biopolitics climate crisis critical ethnic studies disability studies energy humanities game studies medical humanities new materialisms and sonic studies This book is an invaluable resource for students and established scholars seeking to understand the vast range of engagements with science fiction in scholarship today Chapter 39 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at
