Ballad of the Bullet Forrest Stuart, 2021-05-04 Drawing on two years of ethnographic fieldwork and over 150 interviews with gang affiliated youth in the Taylor Park neighborhood on Chicago's South Side Ballad of the Bullet reveals that those coming of age in America's poorest neighborhoods are developing new creative and online strategies for making ends meet Dislocated by the erosion of the crack economy and the splintering of corporatized gangs these young people exploit the unique affordances of digital social media to capitalize on an emerging online market for urban violence or more accurately a market for the representation of urban violence In the past violence functioned primarily as a means of social control allowing urban youth to compete in illegal street markets and defend the social statuses otherwise denied to them by mainstream society Today with the rise of platforms like YouTube Instagram and Twitter violence has become a premier cultural commodity in and of itself By amassing millions of clicks views and followers these young people convert their online displays of violence into vital offline resources including cash housing drugs sex and for a very select few a ticket out of poverty
