My Therapist Is an AI - Can a Machine Understand the Human Soul? Leopoldo Ceballos del Castillo, 2025-07-23 Today between 500 and 700 million people around the world use artificial intelligence the so called chatbots to talk about their emotions seek comfort or resolve personal conflicts In numerous documented cases these interactions have led to psychotic episodes severe crises or decisions driven by misleading advice hallucinations or fabricated information generated by the AI itself Leopoldo Ceballos drawing on his dual background as a computer engineer and psychologist offers a bold and clarifying perspective to understand why millions of people prefer to talk to a machine instead of another human being and what we can do as a society to address this trend without giving up on our humanity The result is a critical and practical guide for using AI responsibly recognizing its real risks exploring accessible human alternatives and applying prompt engineering principles to minimize errors and misunderstandings when no other option is available A book for those brave enough to look beyond the glow of technology and ask themselves Are we truly ready to talk about our emotions with an artificial intelligence

Cancer in Adolescents and Young Adults Archie Bleyer, Ronald Barr, Lynn Ries, Jeremy Whelan, Andrea Ferrari, 2016-11-17 This is the second edition of the only book to be devoted exclusively to the total cancer picture in adolescents and young adults AYA now expanded from the age range 15-29 to that of 15-39 years For each of the diverse spectrum of cancers encountered in the AYA group the epidemiology natural progression diagnostic approaches and treatment options are described with special emphasis on strategies for early detection and prevention Comparison is made with management of both younger and older patients and model programs are presented that address common diagnostic staging treatment and psychosocial shortcomings in the AYA group Detailed attention is also paid to principles and practices of care with consideration of psychosocial and quality of life issues social support systems rehabilitation late effects insurance and economic aspects of health care among other topics The authors make compelling arguments for integrated strategies that allow young adults to benefit from the combined expertise of pediatric and adult oncologists in systems that identify both the complex disease and the social issues specific to this population The proposed models of care include relationships with other specialties that do not specifically target this age group i.e. infectious disease endocrinology pulmonary medicine nephrology gastroenterology thoracic and abdominal surgery urology otolaryngology and neurosurgery New patterns of communication are advocated and endorsed as essential for productive interaction involving these specialties References are extensive and are oriented toward users in pediatric hematology oncology medical oncology radiation oncology surgical oncology gynecologic oncology oncology nursing psycho-oncology social work epidemiology public health and health services research The contributing authors are from the United States the United Kingdom Canada Italy France Israel Switzerland and Australia Germany Japan and the Netherlands
