Chinese Communist Education Stewart E. Fraser, 1965 This collection of records of Chinese Communist education in its first decade has been brought together to afford an insight into the nature and scope of some of the various developments in the world's largest though still virtually unknown education system The collection is derived from material originating in the main either from Chinese Communist or United States government sources Here in the form of speeches articles and official documents from the leaders of Communist China are outlined the plans and ideals for all levels of education as a means of reshaping China into a modern Communist state These documents consistently illustrate the all pervading Marxist philosophy as adapted for educational purposes by the Chinese for specific use in a Chinese context Chinese Communist Education Symposium on Foods : Proteins and their Reactions (1963 : Oregon State University), 1965 Education in Communist China R.F. Price, 2017-12-12 This book first published in 1970 and revised in 1975 lays out the background to the Chinese educational system and attempts of the communist leadership to reform the school system It analyses the educational implications of the Cultural Revolution and the difficulties Mao faced in his attempts to introduce new educational policies This book forms a valuable case study in the reform of education Communist China: a Strategic Survey Army Library (U.S.), 1966 China's Universities and the Open Door Ruth Hayhoe, 2016-07-22 Recent events in Tianamen Square have made such books abruptly important though in some aspects outdated This one examines reforms in higher education from before the republic to March 1988 and focuses on educational and economic relations with groups outside China and the effect the reforms may The Cambridge History of China Roderick MacFarquhar, John King Fairbank, 1987 Chinese Education Irving Epstein, 2017-12-12 This book first published in 1991 is concerned with educational change It seeks to place Chinese educational policies within the broader social context of Chinese development and modernisation imperatives by analysing issues germane to specific educational structures and sectors At the same time it attempts to inform the reader of larger policy issues which affect the educational system as a whole and speak to more global concerns the nature of Chinese student activism gender inequality rural urban disparities educational inequality the influences of market forces and the growth of professionalism School Systems in Communist China, 1949-1963 Ting Chih Lang, 1980 Education in Modern China R.F. Price, 2014-02-25 First published in 1970 this re issues the revised edition of 1979 This book examines the part played both by tradition and by the Cultural Revolution in the educational system of twentieth century China and explores the apparent reversal of policy which took place since the death of Mao The book discusses the writings of Mao on the nature of man society and knowledge and his ideas on education These are then seen in the context of history philosophy and religion Educational aims and policies are discussed showing how factors such as language geography economics and the social structure created obstacles to reform From Dependence to Autonomy P.G. Altbach, V. Selvaratnam, 2012-12-06 This book is an example of an international editorial enterprise The two editors located in the

United States and Singapore coordinated a team of authors in ten countries Linked by common concerns the lengthy process of preparing such a complex volume proved to be a pleasantly cooperative task proof that there is a kind of invisible college of colleagues working on similar topics in different countries This book is also an indication that scholars from the Third World and the industrialized nations can work together in a spirit of equality and understanding This project has an interesting origin It was first discussed at a conference on ASEAN American higher education held in Malaysia in 1985 sponsored by the Regional Institute for Higher Education and Development then headed by V Selvaratnam and funded by the Asia Foundation and the Lee Foundation At the time geographical coverage was to be limited to the ASEAN nations We also sought external funding without success to assist us in developing the project Due to lack of funding the project languished for a year When one of our original participants Andrew Gonzales of the Philippines produced an essay we decided to proceed without funding We also decided to add several additional key Asian nations that we felt would provide additional analytic scope to the book The result of this somewhat unusual collaborative effort is this volume Worker-peasant Education in the People's Republic of China ,1982 Pacific Affairs ,1964 Includes book reviews and bibliographies
