Lin, 2019-09-19 Learning English and Chinese is becoming increasingly important to the prospects of young people This book compares English as a Foreign Language teaching in Taiwan with Chinese as a Foreign Language education in England in order to highlight how classroom activities are embedded within multiple settings including ethnic or other social group cultures family and community resources and school visions or goals The book illustrates how in Taiwan different ethnic groups recognise access and value English language learning to varying extents Its findings illuminate why some ethnic groups are highly motivated to learn English and are able to gain privileged economic positions in the job market In England access to Chinese is marked by social class and the book argues that this could augment an educational apartheid that already exists in language teaching in secondary schools thereby exacerbating existing inequality The Field of Chinese

Language Education in the U.S. Vivian Ling, 2018-02-13 This book will be the first account of the development of Chinese as a foreign language in the U S as it interacts with the relevant entities in China and beyond There are virtually no systematic retrospective reflections on the field outside of the greater China region and yet over the past decades the field has grown by leaps and bounds and it is critical now that we pause to reflect on what has happened and what we can learn from the past The contributors are among some of the most influential pioneers in the field whose entire academic lives have been dedicated to its development The Field of Chinese Language Education in the U S A Retrospective of the 20th Century is aimed at those who are currently engaged in Chinese language education as teachers or as students Interculturality in Learning Mandarin Chinese in British Universities Tinghe Jin, 2020-11-29 As China and Chinese language learning moves centre stage economically and politically questions of interculturality assume even greater significance In this book interculturality draws attention to the processes involved in people engaging and exchanging with each other across

Pedagogic Practices, Student Engagement and Equity in Chinese as a Foreign Language Education

Wen Xu, 2021-12-27 This book explores and analyses Chinese as a Foreign Language CFL pedagogic practices and learning experiences within a cohort of low socio economic status students within an Australian primary classroom It demonstrates that in spite of policy and educational discourses underpinning Asian literacies Chinese teaching and learning is a fragile undertaking in Australian schooling The politicisation of CFL education especially in the post COVID 19 era has exacerbated public stereotypes concerning racism and multiculturalism in Australia today Drawing upon Bernstein s theorisation and engagement framework Wen Xu sketches out CFL education as a democratic space where power and control relations can be deliberately operated to reinforce engaging learning experiences She suggests that pedagogic interventions in the name of social justice have the potential to make consequential differences in disadvantaged students life trajectories and CFL education can be envisioned as an avenue towards socioeconomic mobility instead of being criticised as a platform opposing to liberal ideas In turn she provides insights into teaching younger age CFL learners in the global context in terms of the structuring of pedagogy and curriculum Wen Xu s research will be of interest to students and scholars in sociology of education student engagement pedagogy and curriculum CFL education and languages education as well as pre service teachers and practitioners who teach Chinese as a Foreign Language
