Modern Chinese Literary and Cultural Studies in the Age of Theory Rey Chow, 2001-01-04 An attempt to describe the new boundaries of the field of Chinese studies Chinese Literature James L. Claren, 2002 Chinese literature one of the world's oldest and richest and consisting originally of poetry and later of drama and fiction may be divided into three major historical periods that roughly correspond to those of Western literary history the classical period from the 6th century BC to the 2nd century AD the medieval period from the third century to the late 12th century and the modern period from the 13th century to the present This book presents an overview of Chinese literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources accessed by subject author and title indexes Chinese Literature ,1993 The Literary Field of Twentieth Century China Michel Hockx, 2019-05-08 At least since the late nineteenth century onwards Chinese literature as a form of cultural production has been taking place within a specific social space including writers critics journalists editors publishers printers and booksellers Focusing on people as well as on texts and looking at what writers did as well as at what they wrote the essays in this volume draw a vivid and variegated picture of Chinese literary life throughout the modern period The book treats differences between periods but also traces the continuities that have characterised modern Chinese literary practice and its discourses from the beginning to the present including ties of allegiance utilisation of the people and appropriation of the west The book places modern Chinese literature firmly within its socio historical context thereby increasing the reader's awareness of the hidden assumptions behind literary production In doing so it opens new perspectives on Chinese culture as a whole and on literature as a cosmopolitan concept China Exchange News ,1990
