Choosing Executives A Research Report On The Peak Selection Simulation:

Choosing Executives Jennifer J. Deal, Valerie I. Sessa, Jodi J. Taylor, 1999 Failure rate for senior executives is high consider the frequent stories in the press about yet another CEO who has been fired or has resigned prematurely Hypothesizing that the selection process is inadequate CCL researchers used the Peak Selection Simulation to ask 621 decision makers specific questions about how they use interviews HR information and search firm reports to select top level candidates This report containing thirty figures and tables and a comprehensive reference list documents this research and provides useful insights that can lead to better selection outcomes

Selecting International Executives Manuel London, Valerie I. Sessa, 1999 Organizations looking to establish and maintain a proactive global presence have executive selection requirements that go beyond traditional leadership skills These requirements also include cross cultural experience in negotiating developing and maintaining partnerships with other businesses worldwide Because the globalization of organizations is relatively new little is known about how to identify and select executives who have the skills to operate effectively in a global environment This book for practitioners and human resources professionals summarizes the most current information about the skills needed to successfully lead a global organization and defines a framework for identifying executives who possess those skills
