The Dialectics of Creation Martin G. Poulson, 2014-03-13 This book investigates the philosophical components of Christian faith in creation by analyzing the distinction and the relation between creation and its Creator The writings of Edward Schillebeeckx and David Burrell supply a terminology of distinction and relation that shapes the discourse following in the footsteps of Aquinas Poulson elucidates the relational dialectic in the thought of Schillebeeckx as a way of thinking about the Creation and offers a helpful comparison with the thought of David Burrell Relational dialectic is an organizing principle not only of Schillebeeckx s account of creation but of his philosophical theology more generally It can operate as a hermeneutic for his material on praxis and humanism in a way that resolves some problems noted by other Schillebeeckx scholars Poulson s interpretation of Schillebeeckx enriches current approaches to this thinker and offers a significant contribution to thinking on the doctrine of Creation and issues surrounding the ontological distinction which is of major concern in philosophical theology today

God's Ways with the World Daniel Hardy, 2005-01-01 This book is devoted to recovering the truth and vitality of Christian faith by attempting to trace the ways of God with the modern world Professor Hardy contends that the profundity of God s interaction with the world despite centuries of valuable contemplation can best be understood by addressing those aspects of human thought which often give modern life its vitality These are the very features with which theology has tended to lose touch but which here are explored as areas in which the character and purposes of God may be manifest Following the example of the great eras of theological understanding in the past this book seeks a new and deeper synthesis of faith theology and other disciplined forms of life and thought to recover the dynamic of God's life and work in and from them As it does so it concentrates on the heartlands of Christian faith worship the Triune God and the activity of God in the world in language and cultures in cosmology and the human being in society and the form of the Church and in the forms of human understanding scientific historical cultural religious and theological The result is an uncompromising study which attempts to show the possibilities for a theology which becomes more fully realised by discovering and following the ways of God with the modern world

Foundations for Mission Emma Wild-Wood, Peniel Rajkumar, 2013-01-11 This volume provides an important resource for those wishing to gain an overview of significant issues in contemporary missiology whilst understanding how they are applied in particular contexts Contributors from across the globe and from different Christian traditions explore foundations for mission The chapters examine in what ways experience the Bible and theology are foundational for mission and how they together inform the missional thought of different traditions The book also raises questions about the continued use of foundations as a helpful metaphor mission reflection and impetus Graduate students and scholars surveying the field will find this a useful and accessible way to understand changing trends within mission studies

Contextual Theology Paul Duane Matheny, 2011-06-03 It has been almost fifty years since theological educators first began talking about contextual theology Today in every country of the global South their home schools require them to contextualize theological education and construct contextual theologies that would be helpful for their local churches In spite of this expectation there are few helps available The expectation is clear but an understanding of the process by which this may occur is lacking Educators often complain that they are led to adapt Western theology to their context rather than developing theology for their churches Arguments for contextual theology are proposed often but there has been little debate explaining and defending the methods involved This book is intended to enter that debate and invite others who should help appreciate the gravity of our situation and join the conversation The epicenter of Christianity has shifted to the global South Yet contextual theology which seeks to preserve the integrity of the faith has not been met with generosity among scholars in the US and Europe This book intends to forge helpful bridges that encourage mutual regard to develop among scholars across the globe The bubble of the Western academy needs to be breached

Christianity and Culture Martin S. Reed, 2002 In over 2 000 years Christianity has made the overwhelming impact on the culture of the Western world in particular But culture has also helped to shape the development and form of Christianity since the interaction of two such powerful phenomena cannot help but change the other This new book brings together over 1200 citations on Christianity and Culture which are indexed by subject title and author for easy access

Jesus Imandars and Christ Bhaktas Jonas Adelin

Jørgensen, 2008 The massive changes of Christianity during the 20th century raise the perennial question about its identity in a new radical form The author addresses the question of identity and asks how globalisation religious pluralism and the polycentric nature of Christianity affect Christian self identification and theological reflection First religious life and theological reflection among believers in Jesus from Muslim and Hindu background in South Asia is presented in two empirical studies Secondly the findings are analysed and interpreted within a broad theoretical framework drawing on models for syncretistic processes from history of religions cultural anthropology and Christian theology Finally the study concludes with a systematic theological perspective on the interreligious hermeneutics underlying the changes of Christianity and discusses how interreligious hermeneutics might inform missiology as well as Christian theologies of religions and how this might challenge our understanding of the church's nature and mission In conclusion it is argued that a global polycentric Christianity can be interpreted as fellowship created by the Spirit and centred on Christ The Pacific Journal of Theology, 2003

Creation, Contingency and Divine Presence in the Theologies of Thomas F. Torrance and Eberhard Jüngel Roland Spjuth, 1995 The focus of this study is the doctrine of creation an issue brought into the centre of attention by the modern ecological urgency but also challenged by the postmodern rejection of analogy and meta narration From the stance of this modern debate the author analyses the doctrine of creation in the theologies of Thomas F. Torrance and Eberhard Jungel Thus the work becomes both a penetrating examination of a crucial dogmatic issue and the first critical comparison between two main representatives of the theology influenced by Karl Barth
