Chinese Ivories From The Shang To The Qing:

Chinese Ivories Oriental Ceramic Society, British Museum, 1984 Chinese Ivories from the Shang to the Qing ,1984 Chinese Ivories from the Shang to the Qing ,1984 Chinese Ivories from Shang to the Qing Oriental Ceramic Society (OCS, London), British Museum (London), 1984 The Virgin Mary and Catholic Identities in Chinese History Jeremy Clarke, 2013-08-01 The Chinese Catholic Church traces its living roots back to the late sixteenth century and its historical roots back even further to the Yuan dynasty This book explores paintings and sculptures of the Virgin Mary and the communities that produced them over several centuries It argues for the emergence of distinctly Chinese Catholic identities as artistic representations of the Virgin Mary at different times and in different places absorbed and in turn influenced representations of Chinese figures from Guanyin to the Empress Dowager At other times indigenous styles have been diluted by Western influences following the influx of European missionaries in the nineteenth century for example or with globalization in recent years The book engages with history theology and art and draws on imagery and archival photographs that have been largely neglected As a study of the social and cultural histories of communities that have survived over many centuries this book offers a new view of Catholicism in China one that sees its history as more than simply a cycle of persecution and resistance Fr Jeremy Clarke SJ is an Australian Province Jesuit teaching as an assistant professor in the History Department of Boston College He is also a school visitor in the Australian Center for China in the World at the Australian National University Canberra Science In China, 1600-1900: Essays By Benjamin A Elman Benjamin A Elman, 2015-05-07 Distinguished historian Benjamin A Elman s collective volume on the history of science in imperial China brings together over 30 years of historical literature on the subject With updates to the literature and new material including transcripts of podcasts and translated interview articles Science in China takes the reader on a journey starting in the early 17th century with the missionary efforts of the Jesuits in China and ending with the Protestant missions in the 19th century These two milestone encounters brought Western sciences to local Chinese scholars with great success in shaping modern Chinese science Elman studies the interaction between Western and Chinese sciences through philological research and evidence and treats the two encounters not as separate events but as a continuum of creative exchange of scientific knowledge and discourse "Eastern Magnificence & European Ingenuity" Catherine Pagani, 2001 An exploration of the important role played by elaborate clockwork in relations between China and Europe from the late sixteenth to the late eighteenth centuries Role of Japan in Modern Chinese Art Joshua A. Fogel, 2013 The modern histories of China and Japan are inexorably intertwined Their relationship is perhaps most obvious in the fields of political economic and military history but it is no less true in cultural and art history Yet the traffic in artistic practices and practitioners between China and Japan remains an understudied field In this volume an international group of scholars investigates Japan s impact on Chinese art from the mid nineteenth century through the 1930s Individual essays address a range of perspectives including the work of individual Chinese and Japanese painters calligraphers and sculptors as well as artistic associations international exhibitions the collotype production or artwork and the emergence of a modern canon

Ivories of China and the East Roger Keverne,1984 The Chinese Face of Jesus Christ: Volume 2 Roman Malek,2022-11-12 This collection in five volumes tries to realize the desideratum of a comprehensive interdisciplinary work on the manifold faces and images of Jesus in China which unites the Sinological mission historical theological art historical and other aspects The first three volumes vols L 1 3 contain articles and texts which discuss the faces and images of Jesus Christ from the Tang dynasty to the present time In a separate volume vol L 4 follows an annotated bibliography of the Western and Chinese writings on Jesus Christ in China and a general index with glossary The iconography i e the attempts of the Western missionaries and the Chinese to portray Jesus in an artistic way will be presented in the fifth volume of this collection vol L 5

Peking Susan Naquin,2001-01-15 The central character in Susan Naquin s extraordinary new book is the city of Peking during the Ming and Qing periods Using the city s temples as her point of entry Naquin carefully excavates Peking s varied public arenas the city s transformation over five centuries its human engagements and its rich cultural imprint This study shows how modern Beijing s glittering image as China s great and ancient capital came into being and reveals the shifting identities of a much more complex past one whose rich social and cultural history Naquin splendidly evokes Temples by providing a place where diverse groups could gather without the imprimatur of family or state made possible a surprising assortment of community building and identity defining activities By revealing how religious establishments of all kinds were used for fairs markets charity tourism politics and leisured sociability Naquin shows their decisive impact on Peking and at the same time illuminates their little appreciated role in Chinese cities generally Lacking most of the conventional sources for urban history she has relied particularly on a trove of commemorative inscriptions that express ideas about the relationship between human beings and gods about community service and public responsibility about remembering and being remembered The result is a book that will be essential reading in the field of Chinese studies for years to come
