Chinese Philosophy, 1949-1963 Wing-tsit Chan, 1965      Mao Tse-Tung's Theory of Dialectic F.Y.K. Soo, 2012-12-06

The year 1979 ushered in a new phase in China's long and continuous revolution. Currently this new phase is being symbolically referred to by the Chinese leaders themselves as the New Long March, a continuation of the legendary and historical Long March in terms of modernization which comprises the Four Modernizations: Agriculture, Industry, Science and Technology, and Military Defense. Such an all-encompassing attempt at modernization may appear to some at least to be something new or may indicate a radical shift in her policy. But upon closer examination this decision seems only to reflect an historical continuity in terms of the two major long-term goals of the Chinese Revolution: national independence and modernization or industrialization. The former would make China strong, the latter wealthy. For ever since the Opium War in 1840 and throughout the Revolutions of 1911 and 1949, China has always pursued these two revolutionary goals, though with different emphases at different times. This has been especially true during the past three decades as this twofold goal has dictated all of China's important policies, both domestic and foreign. In other words, while the concrete policies may have appeared to be lacking in unity at times, they have been formulated with the specific intent of achieving national independence and modernization. From this perspective, the New Long March marks the passage of post-Mao China beyond the transition of succession toward the continued pursuit of the same revolutionary goals.

Biographical Dictionary of Twentieth-Century Philosophers Stuart Brown, Diane Collinson, Robert Wilkinson, 2012-09-10. This Biographical Dictionary provides detailed accounts of the lives, works, influence, and reception of thinkers from all the major philosophical schools and traditions of the twentieth century. This unique volume covers the lives and careers of thinkers from all areas of philosophy, from analytic philosophy to Zen and from formal logic to aesthetics. All the major figures of philosophy, such as Nietzsche, Wittgenstein, and Russell, are examined and analysed. The scope of the work is not merely restricted to the major figures in western philosophy but also covers in depth a significant number of thinkers from the near and far east and from the non-European/Hispanic language communities. The Biographical Dictionary also includes a number of general entries dealing with important schools of philosophy, such as the Vienna Circle, or currents of thought, such as vitalism. These allow the reader to set the individual biographies in the context of the philosophical history of the period. With entries written by over 100 leading philosophy scholars, the Biographical Dictionary is the most comprehensive survey of twentieth-century thinkers to date. Structure: The book is structured alphabetically by philosopher. Each entry is identically structured for ease of access and covers nationality, dates and places of birth and death, philosophical style or school, areas of interest, higher education, significant influences, main appointments, main publications, secondary literature, account of intellectual development, and main ideas, critical reception, and impact. At the end of the book, a glossary gives accounts of the schools, movements, and traditions to which these philosophers belonged, and thorough indexes enable the reader to access the information in several ways by nationality by major areas of contribution to philosophy e g aesthetics by major influences on the thinker concerned e g Plato Kant Wittgenstein      Philosophy Hans E. specialists The criteria for selection included the comprehensiveness of the work the avoidance of overlap with other works cited and the quality of the work itself There is an obviously modern bias to this guide with its concentration on problems of concern to modern Asia rather than traditional Asia but materials have not been limited to those of a strictly contemporary interest and books with an early modern emphasis have also been included The work encompasses materials published up to the end of 1968 extended editions of this guide will appear at regular intervals in the future and to facilitate this the text has been transcribed on computer tape The countries and regions covered are Asia generally Southern Asia generally Ceylon India Nepal Pakistan Southeast Asia generally Burma Thailand Malaysia the Philippines Indochina generally Vietnam Laos Cambodia East Asia generally China Mongolia Korea Japan □□□□□,1968 Guide to Reference Material:
