The Reduction of Drug-Related Harm E. C. Buning, E. Drucker, A. Matthews, R. Newcombe, P. A. O'Hare, 2013-10-08 The War on Drugs has traditionally had total abstinence as its target The contributors to this book take a new and challenging approach to problem drug use arguing that abstinence is not the only solution They believe that existing methods of treatment and control have been inadequate in controlling or improving drug problems and they propose a radical alternative reducing the harm associated with the use of illicit drugs International in scope the book covers a broad range of drugs and of social and individual problems The spread of HIV infection which has been described as a greater threat to individual and public health than drug misuse is also considered The contributors give an overview of the current theories and practices that have helped to minimise the harmful effects of drugs and describe national and city level strategies towards drug problems They also cover the drug policies of several agencies and organisations world wide including police doctors community groups and local authorities Concentrating on reducing drug related harm this is an important contribution to the debate on the future shape of drug control systems It questions the role and function of existing drug laws and discusses how harm reduction will shape day to day work with drug users Provocative and persuasive it should be read by all policy makers and practitioners faced with drugs problems and will do much to help establish new strategies for dealing with drug use strategies that minimise rather than exacerbate drug related harm

Drug Effects Lisa Gezon, 2016-06-16 Khat marijuana peyote are these dangerous drugs or vilified plants with rich cultural and medical values In this book Lisa Gezon brings the drug debate into the 21st century proposing criteria for evaluating psychotropic substances Focusing on khat whose bushy leaves are an increasingly popular stimulant and the target of vehement anti drug campaigns she explores biocultural and socioeconomic contexts on local national and global levels Gezon provides a multidisciplinary examination of the plant's direct physical and psychological effects as well as indirect social and structural effects on income and labor productivity identity gendered relationships global drug discourses and food security This sophisticated multi leveled analysis cuts through the traditional battle lines of the drug debate and is a model for understanding and evaluating psychotropic substances around the world     Essential Strategies of Argument Stuart Hirschberg,1996 Offers instruction in understanding analyzing and evaluating different types of arguments and guidance in writing arguments This book introduces students to techniques of critical reading and to various strategies of argument such as types of claims the Toulmin system Rogerian analysis of audience and inductive and deductive reasoning     Reinventing the Meal Pavel G Somov,2012-09-01 In Reinventing the Meal renowned psychologist Pavel Somov presents readers with a plan for mindfully reconnecting with the comforting rituals involved in preparing and enjoying food This revolutionary way of eating offers readers daily opportunities for feeling more relaxed and connected with their bodies without extensive meditation practice Chapter by chapter this guide helps readers reinvent their relationship to food and eventually see each meditative mealtime as an opportunity to reconnect with the body the mind and the world at large     Food for Dissent Maria McGrath,2019-08-26 In the 1960s and early 1970s countercultural rebels decided that rather than confront the system they would create the world they wanted The natural foods movement grew out of this contrarian spirit Through a politics of principled shopping eating and entrepreneurship food revolutionaries dissented from corporate capitalism and mainstream America In Food for Dissent Maria McGrath traces the growth of the natural foods movement from its countercultural fringe beginning to its twenty first century food revolution ascendance focusing on popular natural foods touchstones vegetarian cookbooks food co ops and health advocates Guided by an ideology of ethical consumption these institutions and actors spread the movement's oppositionality and transformed America's foodscape at least for some Yet this strategy proved an uncertain instrument for the advancement of social justice environmental defense and anti corporatism The case studies explored in Food for Dissent indicate the limits of using conscientious eating shopping and selling as tools for civic activism

Strategies of Argument Stuart Hirschberg,1996     Strategies Argument Presentati Hirschberg,1990-01-03     The International Journal of the Addictions ,1990     Humanity & Society ,1985     Against Excess Mark A. Kleiman,1992-05-10 Drug taking and drug control are alike Both are often done to excess Against Excess shows how we can limit the damage done by drugs and the damage done by drug policies Mark Kleiman cuts through the rhetoric of the war on drugs and the legalization debate to discuss the practical options available for the control of the entire range of psychoactive substances offering detailed prescriptions for managing alcohol nicotine cocaine marijuana and heroin Against Excess explains why and how drugs in general including currently legal drugs are unlike other consumer goods in ways that justify governmental control over their distribution and use then reviews the vocabulary of policy instruments through which that control can be exercised The book is organized around three questions Why do some people who can manage the rest of their lives get into trouble with drugs How do their problems harm their families and their communities What can governments do about this situation Kleiman argues that we need to develop a middle course between prohibition and complete legal availability a new category of grudging toleration that would apply to alcohol and to some of the currently prohibited drugs He also argues that as a practical matter drug programs enforcement persuasion and helping and controlling problem users may be as important as the laws Here is the definitive book on drug policy by one of the country s leading experts on the subject     Campus Health Guide Carol L.
