Coggins, 1979 A study of crucial issues facing Christian missions in relation to diverse political systems      Christ and Caesar in Christian Missions Edwin L. Friesen jr., 1979      Christians in Caesar's Household Michael Flexsenhar III, 2020-02-28 In this volume Michael Flexsenhar III advances the argument that imperial slaves and freedpersons in the Roman Empire were essential to early Christians self conception as a distinct people in the Mediterranean and played a multifaceted role in the making of early Christianity Scholarship in early Christianity has for centuries viewed Roman emperors slaves and freedmen as responsible for ushering Christianity onto the world stage traditionally using Paul's allusion to the saints from Caesar's household in Philippians 4:22 as a core literary lens Merging textual and material evidence with diaspora and memory studies Flexsenhar expands on this narrative to explore new and more nuanced representations of this group showing how the long accepted stories of Christian slaves and freedpersons in Caesar's household should not be taken at face value but should instead be understood within the context of Christian myth and meaning making Flexsenhar analyzes textual and material evidence from the first to the sixth century spanning Roman Asia the Aegean rim Gaul and the coast of North Africa as well as the imperial capital itself As a result this book shows how stories of the emperor's slaves were integral to key developments in the spread of Christianity generating origin myths in Rome and establishing a shared history and geography there differentiating and negotiating assimilation with other groups and expressing commemorative language ritual acts and a material culture With its thoughtful critical readings of literary and material sources and its fresh analysis of the lived experiences of imperial slaves and freedpersons Christians in Caesar's Household is indispensable reading for scholars of early Christianity the origins of religion and the Roman Empire      Christian Mission Dana L. Robert, 2011-09-09 CHRISTIAN MISSION Dana Robert distils a quarter of a century of her research into an erudite and accessible single volume account of how Christianity became the largest religious tradition in the world There is no better place for any reader to start becoming informed about this important subject David Hempton Harvard University Remarkable for the range and depth of the material Robert is able to pack into so short a book Reliable and readable it is especially valuable for its treatment of the relation between western and non western missionary activity David A Hollinger University of California Berkeley Dana Robert's richly textured book shows us that the history of Christian missions is far from being merely a European colonial story and will be immensely valuable to students and general readers who are concerned to uncover the historical roots of Christianity's current status as a truly global faith Brian Stanley University of Edinburgh The Gospels record that Christ commanded his disciples to go forth and teach all nations Thus began the history of Christian mission a phenomenon which brought about massive shifts in the nature and practice of Christianity and one that many say reflects the single most important movement of intercultural encounter over a sustained period of human history To understand Christianity as a global movement therefore it is essential to study the role of mission defined as the transmission of the Gospel across cultures Erudite and enlightening this brief book explores the 2 000 years of mission history covering topics such as the meaning of the missionary through history gender and missions and missions in culture and politics Given that in the twenty first century Christianity is now largely practiced outside the West Christian Mission is an inspirational and invaluable resource to broaden our understanding of the nature of Christianity as a truly multi cultural world religion

Towne,1934      Towards a Theology of Church Growth David Goodhew,2016-03-03 Concern about church growth and decline is widespread and contentious yet theological reflection on church growth is scarce Reflecting on the Bible dogmatic theology and church history this book situates the numerical growth of the church within wider Christian theology Leading international scholars including Alister McGrath Benedicta Ward and C Kavin Rowe contribute a spectrum of voices from evangelical charismatic liberal and anglo catholic perspectives All contributors unite around the importance of seeking church growth provided this is situated within a nuanced theological framework This book offers a critique of decline theology which has been influential amongst theologians and churches and which assumes church growth is impossible and or unnecessary The contributors provide rich resources from scripture doctrine and tradition to underpin action to promote church growth and to stimulate further theological reflection on the subject The Archbishop of Canterbury provides the Foreword      New Horizons in World Mission David J. Scott Moreau,2000 The first comprehensive one volume reference work to consider the history of world missions and contemporary study of the subject from an evangelical perspective      ReCreatable Kevin Scott,2014-01-24 ReCreatable begins with the story of a glass baking dish the delectable aroma of tantalizing brownies and an unseen defect that turns the promise of something delicious into a minor disaster leaving glass fragments and brownies irretrievably intermingled Both the dish and brownies are irrevocably lost The implications for us are inescapable created by God to reflect his glory and for his pleasure we have been broken by sin to the point that we are completely useless to accomplish the purpose for which we were made But unlike the shattered brownie dish that gets discarded as worthless God takes the shards of our lives and does the miraculous He does not simply fit us back together He takes those splinters of our destruction and uses them to re create us complete restored redeemed and fitted to do and be all that he ever intended for us ReCreatable leads us progressively through the impact of the creative genius of God in our lives It points us to the reality of restored relationships the resurrection of our role as true reflectors of God s glory and the revolutionary life that can be ours when we learn to be true disciples re created to live well for God     The Churchman ,1900     Reports of the Missionary and Benevolent Boards and Committees to the General Assembly ...
