Artificial Intelligence for Smart Health: Learning, Simulation, and Optimization Bing Yao,Nathan Gaw,Hyo Kyung Lee,2025-03-07 With rapid developments in medical sensing and imaging

we now live in an era of data explosion in which large amounts of data are readily available and accessible in the clinical environment. The fast growing biomedical and healthcare data provide unprecedented opportunities for data driven scientific knowledge discovery and clinical decision support. However it is widely acknowledged that biomedical and healthcare data contain high dimensions, large volumes, missing values, imbalanced classes, heterogeneous sources, multi modalities and measurement noises. These inherent features pose significant barriers to the translation of data into meaningful clinical actions. Thus there arises an urgent and compelling need for the development of innovative machine learning simulation and optimization algorithms to cope with the unique challenges associated with biomedical and healthcare data, facilitating the transformation of data into actionable insights for smart health. Our Research Topic aims at catalyzing synergies among biomedical informatics, machine learning, computer simulation, operations research, systems engineering and other related fields with three specific goals: 1) develop cutting edge data driven models to accelerate scientific knowledge discovery in biomedicine from medical and healthcare data collected from laboratory systems, imaging systems and medical and sensing devices; 2) develop advanced simulation and calibration algorithms to build personalized digital twins by effectively assimilating patient specific medical data with population level computer models, facilitating precision medical planning; 3) develop innovative optimization algorithms for optimal medical decision making in the face of uncertainty, factors conflicting objectives and complex trade offs. This Research Topic will offer a timely collection of information to benefit the researchers and practitioners working in the broad fields of biomedical informatics, healthcare data analytics, medical image processing and health related artificial intelligence. By harnessing the potential of machine learning, computational simulation and mathematical optimization techniques, healthcare professionals can effectively analyze and interpret the vast amount of biomedical data available to them, which will ultimately lead to more accurate disease diagnosis, personalized treatment plans and improved patient outcomes.

Novel Reliable Approaches for Prediction and Clinical Decision-making in Cancer Ines Zidi, Safa Bhar Layeb, Vera Rebmann, 2025-01-14

Cancer is one of the leading causes of death worldwide. Significant advances in the understanding of cancer biology have been reported in the last decade. Many important driving changes, especially immunological deregulations, are implicated in cancer development and progression. These events lead to cancer complexity and heterogeneity in cancer and play a substantial role in pharmacokinetic variability in anticancer therapies. Furthermore, it remains difficult to quantify the prevalence of recurrence and metastasis. Interestingly, omics have shown promising results and are being used to better describe cancer susceptibility, prognosis and response to treatment. Additionally, researchers are still searching for immunological and other cancer signatures particularly relevant for effective cancer prediction. Emerging data obtained independently are still insufficient to explain the complexity of cancer. Hopefully, new comprehensive systemic and combinatorial approaches will yield benefit in the future and will lead to the development of personalized treatment regimens and improved immunotherapies. In this research topic, we welcome submissions that propose new panels including and not limited to immunological information cytokines signal transduction pathways involving immune receptors immune tolerance molecules extracellular vesicles immune cells etc genetic information related to genes involved in the deregulation of immune functions eg multi SNP CNV medical history imaging results Authors should present integrative and systemic approaches using clinical data to make reliable predictions of cancer risk and its prognosis and to support cancer treatment management and clinical decision making
