This is the Canon Joan Anim-Addo, Deirdre Osborne, Kadija Sesay, 2021-10-28 A vital and timely introduction to some of the best books I ve ever read Perfectly curated and filled with brilliant literature Nikes Shukla The ultimate introduction to post colonial literature for those who want to understand the classics and the pioneers in this exciting area of books Symeon Brown These are the books you should read This is the canon Joan Anim Addo Deirdre Osborne and Kadija Sesay have curated a decolonized reading list that celebrates the wide and diverse experiences of people from around the world of all backgrounds and all races It disrupts the all too often white dominated required reading collections that have become the accepted norm and highlights powerful voices and cultural perspectives that demand a place on our shelves From literary giants such as Toni Morrison and Chinua Achebe to less well known but equally vital writers such as Caribbean novelist Earl Lovelace or Indigenous Australian author Tony Birch the novels recommended here are in turn haunting and lyrical innovative and inspiring edgy and poignant The power of great fiction is that readers have the opportunity to discover new worlds and encounter other beliefs and opinions This is the Canon offers a rich and multifaceted perspective on our past present and future which deserves to be read by all bibliophiles whether they are book club members or solitary readers self educators or teachers

Uncommon Wealths in Postcolonial Fiction Helga Ramsey-Kurz, Melissa Kennedy, 2017-11-01 Uncommon Wealths in Postcolonial Fiction engages urgently with wealth testing current assumptions of inequality in order to push beyond reductive contemporary readings of the gaping abyss between rich and poor Shifting away from longstanding debates in postcolonial criticism focused on poverty and abjection the book marshals fresh perspectives on material spiritual and cultural prosperity as found in the literatures of formerly colonized spaces The chapters follow the money to illuminate postcolonial fiction s awareness of the ambiguities of wealth acquired under colonial capitalism and transmuted in contemporary neoliberalism. They weigh idealistic projections of individual and collective wellbeing against the stark realities of capital accumulation and excessive consumption. They remain alert to the polysemy suggested by Uncommon Wealths both registering the imperial economic urge to ensure common wealth and referencing the unconventional or non-Western, the unusual, even fictitious and contrasting privately coveted and exclusively owned wealth with visions of a shared good. Arranged into four sections centred on aesthetics, injustice, indigeneity and cultural location, the individual chapters show how writers of postcolonial fiction including Aravind Adiga, Amit Chaudhuri, Anita Desai, Patricia Grace, Mohsin Hamid, Stanley Gazemba Tomson, Highway, Lebogang Matseke, Zakes Mda, Michael Ondaatje, Kim Scott and Alexis Wright employ prosperity and affluence as a lens through which to re-examine issues of race, ethnicity, gender and family, the cultural value of heritage, land and social cohesion, and such conflicting imperatives as economic growth, individual fulfilment, social and environmental responsibility and just distribution.

Postcolonial Tourism Anthony Carrigan, 2011-02 Carrigan here examines the aesthetic portrayal of tourism in postcolonial literatures. Looking at the cultural and ecological effects of mass tourism development in states that are still grappling with the legacies of western colonialism, he argues that postcolonial writers provide blueprints toward sustainable tourism futures. The Atlantic Literary Review, 2003.

Tu Patricia Grace, 2004-12-31 Contemporary novel about Maori participation in World War II. The Long Forgetting Patrick Evans, 2007. The Long Forgetting is the first book-length study of New Zealand's postcolonial literary culture. Beginning with a survey of the wrenching economic, social and cultural changes that have occurred since 1970, including Maori protest, the anti-tour protests of 1981, Rogernomics, Ruthanasia, the fiscal envelope and the America's Cup win, it then moves back to the nineteenth century and the formation of European relationship with Maori. Subsequent chapters survey recent critics' work in breaking up the myth of male-dominated cultural nationalism that occupied much of the mid-twentieth century, and returning to the years since 1970 show the rise of new writing by women, gays and Maori. A final chapter treats the Generation X phenomenon. Maori writers struggle with official biculturalism and the rise of a distinctive New Zealand-based Pasifika writing. An Anthology of Colonial and Postcolonial Short Fiction Dean R. Baldwin, Patrick J. Quinn, 2007. Focusing on short stories from both the former British colonies and Great Britain itself, An Anthology of Colonial and Postcolonial Short Fiction presents a fascinating cross-section of writing in English, a literature politicized by the experience of colonization. Great short stories from Ireland, Canada, the Caribbean, India, Pakistan, Africa, Australia and New Zealand demonstrate the diversity of the postcolonial experience around the world from the late nineteenth century to the present. Also including rich background materials and thorough explanatory footnotes to help students read these stories with an informed eye, this anthology is a must for any student interested in world literature.
