Foreign Policy in Comparative Perspective Ryan K. Beasley, 2002 Although a state's foreign policy is shaped by its unique culture history and political system all states share the same challenge they must contend with new global forces that are changing the way nations interact Economic liberalization democratization self-determination regionalism as well as the growing power of international organizations heavily influence the actions of states both at home and on the world stage At last there is a modern comparative foreign policy text In one accessible volume fifteen scholars systematically explore the foreign policies of thirteen nations covering both major and emerging players Linking the study of international relations to domestic politics the authors highlight the importance of both internal and external forces in foreign policymaking Rather than consolidate countries into regional categories Foreign Policy in Comparative Perspective treats each nation according to its individual history and contemporary dilemmas allowing authors to address both shared concerns within a region and the unique struggles facing a particular country Enabling comparative analysis the book's theoretical framework helps students discern patterns to better understand why a state acts as it does in foreign affairs Each country chapter includes an introduction by the volume's editors that points to similar developments in other countries reinforcing comparison and analysis a discussion of the linkages between external and internal factors and the implications for future foreign policy a map to place countries within geographical context and a list of suggested readings for further information

The Domestic Context Of Soviet Foreign Policy Seweryn Bialer, 2019-07-15 This volume highlights those aspects of Soviet internal dynamics that influence foreign policy and international relationships It reflects a growing awareness of the importance of internal factors as a critical determinant shaping the making and effectiveness of Soviet foreign policy

The role of domestic factors in ending the Cold War Magdalena Zettl, 2013-12-30 Essay from the year 2012 in the subject Politics History of Political Systems grade 17 language English abstract The end of the Cold War left many IR scholars puzzled how could after 40 years the Cold War end that peacefully Why did Soviet foreign policy change so drastically within a few years How come US perception of the Soviet Union SU changed within a decade from the evil empire to an allied partner Neither realism nor liberalism could have predicted or fully explained this event Realism failed firstly because rivalry between the US and the SU ended peacefully secondly moving from a bipolar to a unipolar system clearly contradicted realist expectations on balance of power and power equilibrium Risse Kappen 1994 Instead the end of the Cold War proved the unabashed victory of economic and political liberalism Fukuyama 1989 SU's move toward liberal order brought forward the end of the Cold War but this does not answer why the SU chose to adopt liberal order why to such an extent and why around the mid 1980s Hence domestic factors having been excluded from the analysis so far must have played a key role After a theoretical review on domestic variables in IR I will analyze how domestic factors influenced Soviet foreign policy especially Soviet new thinkers economic factors and domestic political infrastructure To provide a complete analysis I will also shed light on the influence of US domestic variables
