Reducing Administrative Barriers to Investment Scott H. Jacobs, Jacqueline G. Coolidge, 2006 This book describes the recent activities of the Foreign Investment Advisory Service a joint facility of the IFC and the World Bank to help governments in developing and transition economies to identify and remove administrative barriers to investment Lessons learned include the critical need for political will to implement reforms leadership from center of government and capacity to ensure sound implementation of legislative and regulatory reform over an extended period of time including regular monitoring and evaluation

Increasing Formality and Productivity of Bolivian Firms The World Bank, 2009-07-06 Bolivia's informal economic sector is the largest in Latin America and has been attributed to many factors including the burden of regulations the weakness of public institutions and the lack of perceived benefits to formality Increasing Formality and Productivity of Bolivian Firms presents fresh qualitative and quantitative analyses to help understand the reasons why firms are informal and the impact of formalization on their profitability in order to better inform appropriate policies A crucial finding of the study is that the impact of tax registration on profitability depends on firm size and the ability to issue tax receipts The smallest and largest firms have lower profits as a result of tax registration because their cost of formalizing exceeds benefits The study concludes by recommending policy priorities to increase the benefits of formalization through information training access to credit and markets and business support Longer term policy recommendations include simplifying formalization regulatory and taxation procedures and reducing their costs as well as measures to boost the productivity of small and micro firms

Challenges to Enterprise Performance in the Face of the Financial Crisis World Bank, 2011-06-10 The report uses the results of the most recent Business Environment and Enterprise Performance Survey BEEPS to examine key drivers of firm performance access to finance infrastructure and labor in 29 Eastern European and Central Asian countries
