10 Rules for Raising Kids in a High-Tech World Jean M. Twenge, 2025-09-02 Jean Twenge PhD award winning

professor of psychology and author of the lavishly informative The New York Times Generations returns with a concrete and accessible guide to raising resilient successful happy children in a time of overwhelming technological intrusion Parenting today often feels like an uphill battle with technology invading every corner of our kids lives From the rise of social media addiction to the growing mental health crisis among children and teens parents are grappling with how they can create a healthy balanced relationship with technology for their kids Bestselling author Jean Twenge provides the much needed playbook parents have been asking for Drawing on her decades as a psychologist studying the impact of technology and mental health and her personal experience as the mother of three teenagers Twenge offers ten actionable rules for raising independent and well rounded children From setting No Social Media Until 16 boundaries to creating no phone zones like bedrooms and family dinners these rules are grounded in evidence yet simple enough to incorporate into any family routine Short empowering and timely this book equips parents with the tools to combat not just immediate harms such as online bullying but also helps to nurture essential life skills preparing kids and teens to become autonomous adults Adolescent Use of New Media and Internet Technologies Gordon P. D. Ingram, 2023-03-31 This book engages with contemporary and often polarizing debates surrounding the risks of adolescent use of digital media and internet technologies By drawing on multiple research studies the text synthesizes current understandings of the impacts of social network use online gaming pornography and phenomena including cyberbullying cyberstalking and internet addiction to develop recommendations for the effective identification of at risk youth as well as strategies for informed communication about online risks and opportunities It shows how media discussion of risks to children and teenagers from new technology is highly emotive and often exaggerated rooted in the moral panic surrounding new cultural practices that young people engage in but which adults do not understand Online risks are thus conceptualized as centering on three areas specific to adolescence which have undergone radical changes due to new internet technology These include young people s identity the types of content that are accessed and social relationships The author shows how these matters stem from the potential of new technology to establish new interpersonal connections emphasizing how it brings opportunities as much as risks As such he provides a uniquely balanced discussion of potential dangers while also emphasizing the opportunities for social academic and personal growth which new technologies afford young people It will be indispensable for researchers and clinicians interested in assessing levels of online risk as well as scholars and educators with interests in cyberpsychology social psychology cyber culture social aspects of computing and media and adolescent development Heeb ,2006 KoreAm Journal ,2008 U.S. News & World Report ,2007 The Teen-Centered Writing Club Constance Hardesty, 2008-08-30 Provides an overview of teen writing clubs and discusses the steps necessary for creating promoting and evaluating one Investors Chronicle ,2006 Broadcasting & Cable ,2007-11 Abstracts of the Annual Meeting American Anthropological Association, 2008 New York ,2010-05 Newsmakers Laura Avery, 2008 Provides timely and informative profiles of the
